New Spain Will Be Enemy Of Soviet Lands

His Supreme Gift

SHANTINIKETAN: October 2.

Presiding at the celebration of Mahatma Gandhi's birthday, Poet Tagore said:

"Professional patriotism is the greatest curse today. Gandhiji attempted to save us from that through his insistence upon Truth and his creed of "Ahimsa." This is his "Sadhana," and that too, is his supreme gift to the Motherland, and through her to all humanity. On this great day in our annals we offer afresh our tribute of affection and reverence."—A. P.

He Created Heroes Out Of Common People

Bombay Sends Affectionate Greetings To Mahatma On Birthday

Hearty congratulations were extended to Mahatma Gandhi by the citizens of Bombay, on Friday the 68th birth-day of Gandhiji, at a public meeting held at the Congress House under the auspices of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee.

HIS SPIRIT PERVADES SUCH MEETINGS

Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, who presided, said that they had met there to send their greetings to Mahatma Gandhi on his 68th birthday. Whether the meetings held to celebrate his birthday were big or small, the spirit of Mahatma Gandhi pervaded such meetings. They were celebrating the birthday of that little man, who had retired, as he believed, into obscurity.

In this land of great men with a glorious chronicle of their messages of deliverance from bondage given to the people from time to time, why were they honouring Mahatma Gandhi? Asoka gave the same message of deliverance, Buddha preached the same gospel. She was one of those who had the privilege of sitting in that Asiatic semi-circles of great disciples of Buddha from various countries, bearing testimony of the undying gospel of Buddha. Guru Nanak was similarly honoured. They were all builders, the historians who moulded the civilisation of this country.

Why did they select this little man, Mahatma Gandhi, for this honour? Each great man came in his own time and preached his gospel according to the historic situation and environment in which he found himself. Mahatma Gandhi hated the blood-thirsty civilisation of the modern times. This little man dared to preach the gospel of conquering not by fighting but by love.

MAHATMA'S MESSAGE.

No message in our times, however wonderful it might have been, had appealed to humanity more than the gospel of the Mahatma had done. It might be true that there were other persons who might be called great like, for instance, Lenin, Mussolini and Hitler. They did for their respective countries what all a nationalist dictator could have done.

But humanity recognised the gospel of Mahatma Gandhi, a gospel too spiritual, which put sacrifice and selflessness as cardinal virtues in the cause of service to humanity.

Like Chaitanya who washed the sores of lepers, Mahatma Gandhi, in modern times washed the moral sores of this leprosy of slavery. They were gathered round him, under a flag which was a symbol of India's redemption from bondage.

HE CREATED HEROES.

To him they sent their greetings. The late Mr. Gokhale paid a tribute to the Mahatma on his return from South Africa as the man who created heroes out of common persons. The leader of the South African Delegation paid a tribute to Mahatma Gandhi that the philosophy of Satyagraha developed in South Africa had raised him in the estimation of the world.

S. A. DELEGATION IN SIMLA

Bhulabhai Desai's Tea Party To Welcome Them

The first public function in honour of the South African delegation was a tea party at Hotel Cecil given by Mr. Bhulabhai Desai, Leader of the Congress Party in the Assembly.

A very large distinguished gathering, including the Presidents of both the Houses, members of the Central Legislature their wives and distinguished visitors in Simla attended the function.

Bhulabhai's Welcome

Welcoming Delegation Mr. Bhulabhai Desai said:—

"On behalf of myself and my colleagues I extend to the South African Delegation our warm welcome and I am more glad to be able to do this as the occasion coincides with the 68th birthday of Mahatma Gandhi to whom you the leader of the Delegation, made reference in your last statement, for guiding our country to better destinies.

EAST AND EVOLUTION.

"I am one of those who refuse to be hypnotised by phrase-making which often involves dangerous fallacies. One of this is 'the Unchanging East.' If the world's history were carefully examined, it could be seen that the East has played greater part in the evolution of man than our Western friends can claim. It is by reason of the attention being paid perhaps to the short immediate past that that phrase has got currency, and I am mindful of the fact that we must catch the rest of the world in modern science, arts and politics.

I was happy to observe that you noticed the spirit of growth taking more rapid strides in all branches of social fabric.

"I remember having met the last Deputation that came from your powerful and aggressive Dominion, a little over ten years ago and I feel emboldened to say that during these ten years India has altered in many respects almost beyond recognition."

REMOVING MISUNDERSTANDINGS

Hofmeyr's Assurance

SIMLA, Oct. 2.

South Africa links of Association in the future are going to be not weakened but strengthened. That being so, if we take a long view we necessarily must do all in our power to remove from our relationship any misunderstandings which militate against goodwill (Applause). There have been misunderstandings in the past. To some extent they still exist. It is possible there have been misunderstanding on both sides. We in South Africa have not understood India. We have not realised India's past, we have not understood the people of India, their natural sentiments and feelings. Our delegations that came to India ten years ago found there were those misunderstandings and that these should be removed. If you will let me say so India has not always understood us. Sometimes, perhaps things have been represented to you in an exaggerated form and your deputations to South Africa found that things had not been quite as bad as they thought them to be. We cannot allow those misunderstandings to continue for all time (cheers). We of this delegation, having regard to that aspect of our dependence on public opinion to which I have referred and having regard to the essential circumstances of South Africa shall certainly do all that lies in our power to remove misunderstandings and role away stones of obstacles between your country and ours" (cheers).—A.P.

CONCORDAT WITH ROMAN CHURCH

LISBON, October 2.

The new Spain will be ruled by a Corporative System similar to that in force in Portugal, General Franco stated to-day in a proclamation addressed to the Spanish people.

ASSURANCE TO WORKERS

The proclamation declared that work for all will be absolutely assured and be no longer subject to capitalism.

A table of minimum wages will be established, all workers' previously obtained rights be respected and social "spongers" be destroyed.

A concordat will be made with the Roman Catholic Church.

ENEMY OF SOVIET

The new Government will maintain the most cordial relations with all countries of the world except Soviet lands, of which Spain will be an enemy.—Reuter.

PT. MALAVIYA'S HEALTH

Not Allowed To See Visitors

BENARES: Oct. 2.

Pandit Malaviyaji's continued weakness is causing some anxiety. His weight was found to-day to have been reduced by three pounds within three days. He is practically confined to his room and visitors are not allowed to see him. In his present condition his removal to a hill-station is not possible.—A. P.

TWO MORE ARMY CORPS FOR GERMANY

BERLIN: Oct. 2.

The formation of two new army corps is disclosed by the announcement that General von Reichenau has been appointed to command the Eleventh Army and Baron von Kressenstein the Twelfth Army. Hitherto there has been only ten.—Reuter.

China Stands At Cross-Roads

Heavy Troop Concentrations Between Nanking And Shanghai

HONGKONG, Oct. 2.

Tension is increasing in Shanghai. It is reported that heavy concentrations of Chinese troops have begun along the Nanking-Shanghai and Hangchow-Shanghai railways.

Japanese circles in Shanghai estimate that 75,000 troops are massed between Shanghai and Nanking alone.—Reuter.

Tokio Demand

SHANGHAI, October 2.

Speculation is rife as to Japan's next move. But the possibility of a Japanese blockade of the Yangtse ports is widely discussed.

Japan's demands in the latest form are:

The right to edit Chinese school books to prevent anti-Japanese feeling;

Autonomy for the five Northern Provinces;

Economic co-operation;

Dismissal of certain Chinese officials;

Common action against Communists;

Appointment of Japanese military and other advisers in Nanking and

The establishment of civil air communication between Japan, China and Manchukuo.—Reuter.

Nanking Reply

SHANGHAI, October 2.

Japanese diplomatic quarters are consternated at the Chinese counter-demands for:

The suppression of Japanese smuggling in China.

A free hand to deal with the autonomous Government of East Hopei.

Withdrawal of surplus Japanese troops from North China.

The withdrawal of Japanese Military Mission from the interior of China,

Non-interference by the Japanese Army in Chinese internal affairs and

The cancellation of the Tangku Shanghai Truce agreements.—Reuter.

EXODUS FROM SHANGHAI

TOKIO, October 2.

Alarmed by the strained relations, a large exodus of the Chinese populace from Shanghai has started, according to the correspondent of the Ashahi Shimbun, while the Bank of China and the Central Bank of China has removed their cash holdings and important documents elsewhere.

Mr. Kuwashima, Director of the Asiatic Affairs Bureau, has left for China to convey the Foreign Minister's fresh instructions to the Japanese Ambassador at Nanking regarding negotiations with China.

A Foreign Office spokesman declared that China now stands at the crossroad. The situation is grave.—Reuter.

SERIOUS SINO-JAP IMPASSE

SHANGHAI, Otc. 2.

With Japanese marines virtually in possession of Hongkew, tension is rapidly increasing. Haunted with the fear of bullets in the back, the Japanese community in Shanghai is in an acute state of nerves, while there is a general feeling that anything may happen.

It is widely believed that the Sino-Japanese negotiations have reached a serious impasse. Well-informed foreign Chinese agree that Japan was taken aback by Nanking's unexpectedly stiff attitude.—Reuter.

EVACUATION OF BRITISHERS

SHANGHAI, Oct. 2.

The British naval authorities have arranged to evacuate British women and children from Hankow and other Yangtse, in the event of an emergency. Shanghai is in a state of tension. The Chinese-Japanese negotiations following China's presentation of counter demands has reached a deadlock, and it is generally agreed that anything may happen.

British authorities emphasise that the evacuation arrangements need give no cause for alarm, as they are purely a precautionary measure in view of the general tension in the Yangtse valley. Japanese circles estimate that about 7,000 Chinese troops are concentrated between Shanghai and Nanking.—Reuter.

JAPAN AND MONETARY AGREEMENT

Foreign Office And Finance Minister Confer

TOKIO, October 2.

It is understood that the Foreign Office and the Finance Ministry are conferring on the French request for Japan's adherence to the Three-Power Monetary Agreement. Reports that Japan is withholding her support from the Agreement are incorrect.—Reuter.

ANGLO-ITALIAN TRADE

Agreement On General Lines Practically Reached

ROME: Oct. 2.

An agreement on general lines is stated to have been practically reached between Britain and Italy re-establishing trade relations, but a number of details are outstanding and hence the accord is not likely to be concluded until the end of the next week.—Reuter.

MORE TROUBLE FOR BLUM

Stay-in Strikes Start Again For Wage-Cut Restoration

LILLE: Oct. 2.

Stay-in strikes started in Halluin, the strikers demanding restoration of their pay-cuts affecting thirty to forty thousand workers.—Reuter.

SECRECY OF BALLOT IN U. P.

Adjournment Motion Disallowed By Viceroy

SIMLA, Oct. 2.

The president announced in the Assembly, the disallowance by the Governor-General of Mr. Mohanlal Saksena's adjournment motion relating to secrecy of ballot in the United Provinces on the ground that the matter was not the primary concern of the Governor-General-in-Council.—A. P.

PRESIDENT GOES TO WARDHA

Consultation With Gandhiji

(From Our Correspondent.)

ALLAHABAD, October 2.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru left for Wardha this evening where he meets Gandhiji and discusses with him important matters affecting the Congress policy.

It is surmised that among the questions he may discuss, is likely to be official interference in elections and the attitude of Bengal Provincial Congress Committee towards the Communal Award. So far as the latter is concerned more or less deadlock is said to exist between the Bengal Congress Executive and the Congress President.

Pandit Jawaharlal proceeds to Madras after holding consultations with Gandhiji.

PROSPECTUS

Objects. The Company has been floated with the objects and for the purposes fully mentioned in the Memorandum of Association and in particular for (1) erecting strong and up-to-date Safe Deposit Vaults in big towns such as Cawnpore, Delhi and Lahore and other cities of India, to provide facilities to the public for depositing their valuables, documents, etc., at a low cost for safe custody and/or (2) erecting COLD STORAGE warehouses, to provide facilities to merchants, traders and the public for preserving their perishable goods at moderate rents and charges and/or (3) for erecting buildings, for letting them out to the public at moderate rents.

GENERAL SCOPE.

Safe Deposit Vaults.—The institution of Safe Deposit Vaults has proved a great success in Europe. The need for such safe deposit vaults is all the greater in India where the hoarding habit of the people is proverbial. In India even the lower middle classes possess valuables, the safe custody of which necessarily involves great risk and costs the individuals concerned a great deal of money. Instead of providing at a very high cost their own iron safes or strong rooms the people will naturally like to utilise the services and facilities provided by a modern Safe Deposit Vault which ensures maximum safety at only a nominal cost.

At present there are four Safe Deposit Vaults working successfully in Bombay under the management of different companies and banks. One such company has also been floated in Madras. The shares of the Bombay Safe Deposit Company are quoting at about 375 per cent., premium referred to and that of Madras Safe Deposit Co., at about 150 per cent. premium. The Bombay Safe Deposit Co. has been paying good dividends regularly. It is expected that the vaults will prove useful at Delhi, Lahore, Cawnpore and other places and profit will result to the Company.

Safes & Strong Rooms for Bullions.—Safes and strong rooms for storing bullion will be provided for merchants and bankers at moderate charges based on different scales.

Cold Storage Warehouses.—The utility of warehouses with facilities for cold storage is also obvious. The Cold Storage System though of recent adoption in India is bound to be of great advantage and facility to the public in general and to the merchants and store-keepers in particular. Perishable and semi-perishable goods which could not be preserved except for a few days and goods of a delicate nature, can now with the help of Cold Storage facilities be kept in good and sound condition for long periods. In big towns in U. P. and the Punjab, where the Company proposes to provide for Cold Storage facilities, there are extreme variations of temperature and during nine months in the year, the intense heat of the place very seriously affects the lives of fresh fruits, vegetables, tinned and other perishable goods. Cold Storage in such places will, therefore, have a special use. It is expected that there will be a very good demand for the facilities which the Company proposes to provide.

Construction of Vaults & Warehouses.—The Vaults will be built with such first class materials as would make them immune for (1) theft, (2) burglary, (3) fire, (4) floods, (5) earthquakes and (6) other damages. The building will be so designed that the space in excess of what is required for the lockers and safes hereinafter referred to, may be utilised as warehouses and flats. It is intended to equip the buildings with refrigerating and air-conditioning plants.

Accommodation.—The buildings will be equipped with as many lockers and as such warehousing accommodation as may be considered necessary for meeting the requirements of each place. The upper flats will be constructed on most modern and sanitary lines to attract a better class of tenants and higher rents.

Lockers.—The lockers will be constructed of first class materials and with such mechanism as would make them strong and safe. Each locker will be like an independent safe with two keys—one key to be retained by the constituent and the other by the Vault custodian. As the locker cannot be opened unless both the keys are used, there will be sufficient safeguard for the company as well as the constituent.

Necessary and suitable arrangement will be made for the identification and comforts of the constituents.

Sources of Income.—The expected sources of income are (1) Rents from lockers, (2) Rents from Safes and Strong Rooms and (3) Rents from the warehouses for cold storage, (4) Profit by storing goods on account of the Company in freezing rooms and by dealing in them, (5) Rents from flats.

It has been decided to erect Safe Deposit Vaults and warehouses for cold storage at big cities which have a big population. At each place the sites will be selected in the best locality with a view not only to attract constituents for both lockers and cold storage warehouses but also to ensure better rents for the buildings. The Company may, when it is thought advisable by the Directors, erect warehouses for Cold Storage without vaults.

As efforts are being made for the purchase or for lease of sites and as the value of lands, buildings, local taxes and other items of expenses at different cities will differ greatly, it is possible to give only approximate figures of income and expenditure. The following figures are given as mere estimates:—

	Rs.
Costs of Building, Land, Vaults, Lockers, Strong rooms, Equipments, etc.	10,00,000
Costs of Plants for Cold Storage	4,00,000
Total	14,00,000

Other Expenses.
Managing Agents' Allowance	12,000
Salary of the Staff	65,000
Electricity and Air conditioning	25,000
Advertisements	12,000
Depreciation	25,000
Managing Agents' Commission	23,000
Taxes, Insurance and other expenses	38,000
Total	2,00,000

Estimated Income	Rs.
Rental from lockers 10,000 out of 15,000 at an average rate of Rs. 20 per annum	2,00,000
Available Space for Cold Storage about 5,40,000 C'ft. Even keeping a margin for probable extent of unused space, there is available 3 lakhs cubic feet for rental purposes of the above kind; but Company on a very conservative estimate base their income on 1,50,000 C'ft. only for Cold Storage & Warehousing Purposes at average rent of As. 2 per month per C'ft. (Rs. 18,750) which per annum amounts to	2,25,000
Total	4,25,000
Less expenses mentioned above	2,00,000
Approximate Net Profit	2,25,000

On the above basis the Company may reasonably expect to pay a dividend of about 10 per cent.

Interest of Directors.—Mr. Kedarnath Khandelwal is a partner of Messrs. Narayandas Khandelwal and Company who have underwritten half the issued capital of the Company.

Mr. Mahaliram Sonthalia is a partner of the Managing Agents' firm.

Qualification of Directors.—The qualification of Director other than the ex-officio Director or a Director who is appointed by reason of his being a lawyer or other expert shall be the holding by him of 500 Ordinary Shares of the Company.

Local Boards.—The Directors are considering appointment of Local Boards composed of prominent public and businessmen of the locality in each centre of its activities.

Remuneration of Directors.—The remuneration of a Director shall be Rs. 40 for each meeting attended by him.

Managing Agents & their Remuneration etc.—The remuneration of the Managing Agents shall be

(a) An allowance of Rs. 1,000 per month.

(b) A commission of 10 per cent. on the net yearly profits of the Company after deducting working expenses but before deducting depreciation, income tax and or super tax or surcharge and transfering any sums to reserve or any other funds or purposes.

Commission.—The Underwriters will be paid a commission of 3 per cent on the shares underwritten by them.

Brokerage.—Brokerage at the rate of four annas per share allotted on application though recognised brokers will be paid to recognised brokers through whom the relative applications bearing their stamps will be received.

Application for Shares.—Applications for shares can be made on the form accompanying this Prospectus or on similarly typed forms—which should be submitted to the Managing Agents at their Registered Office of the Company at 135 Canning Street, Calcutta. No application for less than 50 shares will be entertained.

Preliminary Expenses.—The preliminary expenses are estimated not to exceed the sum of Rs. 6,000.

Inspection of Documents.—Copies of Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company and of the agreements referred to above can be inspected at the Registered Office of the Company. Application forms may be obtained from the underwriters or the Managing Agents.

A copy of the Memorandum is annexed hereto.

Grand Welcome Home To The Heroes

(By: "LOOKER-ON")

During the last few days Bombay had something of a Olympic Week. What with the Japanese Olympic Team, the Hanuman Vyayam Prasarak Mandal of Amraoti, the Indian Olympic Hockey Team,—all returning from the Olympic Games at Berlin,—Bombay's sporting world was agog with excitement and enthusiasm. It is, indeed, a matter of good fortune to Bombay, though it caused a lot of inconvenience and delay to the Japanese Team, that the latter was forced to halt here for a few days owing to a breakdown in the ship in which they were voyaging home. And, thanks to the efforts of S. K. Mukherjee, the idefatigable Secretary of the Bombay Olympic Association, Bombay sportsmen had an opportunity of seeing the Japanese athletes in action. We also owe a debt of gratitude to the local Japanese community who helped in every way to make the demonstration possible..

A Treat By Japs.

The performances of the Japanese athletes were a revelation to our local aspirants to Olympic honours. The comfortable poise and easy grace with which they did their movements and actions showed how easily they had mastered the technique of athletics and which had given them the foremost ranks in several events in the Olympic Games. They clearly demonstrated by comparison the weaknesses of our athletes. Unfortunately, the show was all too short for people to learn the lessons at once. It was, however, as clear as daylight that without proper coaching and sound training by experts, it is impossible for our athletes to reach the world standard.

The Amraoti Team

Next came the representatives of the Hanuman Vyayam Prasarak Mandal of Amraoti. Although they could not directly participate in the Olympic Games, as they had not entered for any of the scheduled games of the Olympics, they gave an exhibition of some of the Indian games in which they excelled, and a demonstration of the Indian system of physical culture. Their exhibitions were so much appreciated that they were classed second in the whole world of physical culture, Austria taking the first place, and were awarded the "Hitler Medal". This is undoubtedly a great honour not only to the Mandal but also to India. The Bombay Provincial Congress Committee accorded them on behalf of the City, a warm reception at the Congress House and deservedly eulogised their meritorious performances at Berlin and other places. I need hardly congratulate Dr. Kane and Asnare, President and leader respectively of the Team, for the name and fame they have brought to their Mandal and the country. I hope their efforts to include some of the Indian games in the Olympics will meet with early success.

World Champions

Finally, came the Indian athletes and the hockey team. Owing to their poor show at Berlin, the athletes returned unnoticed to their homes. But the victorious hockey team had won a wonderful reception from the sporting public of Bombay. They had the unique honour of being accorded a civic reception by the Bombay Municipal Corporation. Then they had a luncheon given in their honour by the Bombay Olympic Association, also a dinner by the German Club. But the function of the evening in which the City participated was the exhibition match between the Olympic XI and the Bombay Customs. If anybody had any doubt about the sporting spirit of the Bombay public, it was definitely set at rest on Wednesday evening.

Bombay's Homage

A smart shower of rain an hour before the commencement of the game was very likely to damp the spirit of the enthusiastic fans. But they braved the weather conditions and mustered strong at the Cooperage, knowing fully well that the match might be dropped if the clerk of the weather persisted in his unsporting attitude. However, the rain stopped and the engagement was fulfilled. Despite the wet ground and bad light due to a heavily-laden sky, there was a classic exhibition of hockey in which both sides excelled in a surprising manner. Of course, the game would have been played on a higher pitch, had the conditions been ideal. Nonetheless the vast crowd followed the fight with keen interest and enthusiasm and felt gratified at the excellent show put up by the local team. The match ended inconclusively, as it had to be stopped owing to failing light that about fourteen minutes before the scheduled time. The Olympic XI retained their lead of two goals to one till the match was abandoned.

Bed-Rock of Success.

India has every reason to be proud of the achievements of the teams led by Dhyan Chand and Asnare. They have added lustre not only to themselves but to their country. Team spirit was the bed-rock of success in addition to the individual and collective excellence of their plays. If we have any lesson to learn from the successes of these two teams and the failures of the All-India Cricket Team in England, it is this that without the proper "esprit-de-corps" no team, however strong and sound, could ever win a battle. Greatest attention should, therefore, be paid in future to building up a team, and selecting its leader. Half the battle will be won in advance thereby.

Prepare from Now.

The Secretary of the Japanese Olympic Association has already issued an invitation to India for the Asiatic games in 1938 and the Olympic games in 1940 to be held in Japan. As Prof. Jagannath, the Honorary Secretary of the Indian Hockey Federation and Manager of the Olympic Hockey Team, said the other day the finances of the I.H.F. and the I. O. A. are in such a precarious state, that even the expenses of the present tour have still to be made up. It is, therefore, absolutely necessary that efforts are made from now to consolidate the financial positions of these organisations, so that when the time comes for sending out a team to Japan we might be in a position to meet the demand. Steps should also be taken from now to coach and train our athletes and give them as much experience in competitive tests as possible. The examples set before us by other nations should be followed with zeal and earnestness. Then only India will be able to hold her own against the leading nations of the world. I hope the Powers-that-be will not rest on their oars again till the call comes, but will be up and doing all the time.

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(By A Suburban Man)

Here's news for cricket fans. I have many a time written on the need of a cosmopolitan cricket tournament for the Suburbs, but our well-known clubs and gymkhanas do not seem to be on the move. I suppose it is because the last tournament that was run by the Bandra Club was discontinued suddenly..... Nothing like organising it once more. I am sure it will receive a good number of entries.

To-morrow begins the first round of the Bombay East Indian Associations Catholic Tournament organised under the auspices of the Young Men's Parisia Association Sahar.

The match starts at 10-30 a.m. and is to be played at Danda Green Bandra. The first round is to be played between the Ban-Tan Club Dadar and the Bachelors XI Juhu.

I am told that both the sides are well selected ones and it is difficult to say who would win and it promises to be a very good game. So if you are a cricket fan see that you find yourself at Danda Green. A crowd that is going to be a record crowd that has witnessed Suburban Cricket I am told will be present.

THANA SOCIAL

On Saturday at 9 p.m. I am told the Thana Catholic Association is to hold a social open to members and their friends in the Thana Town Hall.

This social promises to be a very enjoyable affair and I understand will be followed by dancing.

ELEPHANTIASIS IN SANTA CRUZ

Suburbs In Throes Of Dread Disease

SANTA CRUZ, Friday.

Santa Cruz, Vakola and Kalina, three suburbs under the jurisdiction of the Bandra Municipality, are in the throes of that dreaded disease, Filaria, popularly known as Elephantiasis. Ten cases of acute attack have, so far, been reported and, according to a doctor practising in these areas, many more lie undetected.

Dr. Kundan R. Thacker, practicising in Vakola, in a signed petition to the suburban Health Officer, points to the grave danger to the health of the suburbs by the continued existence of buffalo stables. He is definitely of the opinion that the root cause of the spread of this disease can be directly traced to the filthy, insanitary stables.

The public of Vakola and Kalina, especially, are susceptible to danger as their residential quarters are in close proximity to them in utter disregard to all rules of health.

The doctor condemns the 'laissez faire' attitude of the Bandra Municipality in allowing these stables to continue to exist in spite of all that has been written about them in the press.

GANDHI JAYANTI

Kumarappa's Appeal

During these few days of Gandhi Jayanti, our attention is specially drawn to the main message of Gandhiji's life. Political freedom may have its place. Removal of untouchability can be an end in itself. The philosophy of Ahimsa is undoubtedly an elevating thought. Nevertheless, all these are but incidents on the way to the final goal by raising work to the dignity of a life purpose. In this setting, we realise the importance of what the charkha symbolises.

The economic activity of man shorn of greed and the cause of friction, affords an opportunity for the realisation of one's inner urge for self expression. It shifts the emphasis from selfishness to love and releases man from meaningless toil that saps his vitality and gives him work that builds his character and sustains him. When man attains this position, he will as a matter of course obtain his political freedom and his individual dignity.

Let us, therefore, symbolise our cooperation during these days by purchasing Khadi and village made articles and continue such patronage throughout the coming year.—J. C. Kumarappa.

IN AND AROUND BOMBAY

From Our Staff Correspondents

Indian Central Cotton Committee

The Technological Laboratory of the Indian Central Cotton Committee has issued bulletin Series A No. 33 which shows technological reports on standard Indian cottons, 1936. Dr. N. Ahmad, Director, Technological Laboratory, Matunga, Bombay, in the preface states that the term "Standard Indian Cottons" is applied to certain improved varieties of cotton which are steadily replacing the older varieties in different parts of India and which at present, cover some 15 per cent. of the total area under cotton cultivation. The bulletin contains the detailed results of tests on standard cottons for 13 years from 1923 together with the agricultural details, the Grader's valuation reports and the Spinning Master's report on each cotton. Complete information regarding the treatment, waste percentages, yarn breakages and the physical conditions prevailing is also given. The book contains much useful information and there is no doubt exporters, millowners and cotton merchants will be greatly tempted to know changing conditions of cotton growth in this country.

OFFICIALS AND ELECTIONS

Dr. Khan Sahib's resolution recommends to the Government to "take immediate steps to secure that public servants do not interfere, directly or indirectly, in the ensuing elections to the reformed legislatures." The very fact that the Government spokesman expressed willingness to accept it, instead, as usual, of opposing it on grounds that it was unnecessary and uncalled-for, amounts to a tacit admission that officials have in fact been guilty of such interference. The debate is still unfinished but the first day's proceedings offer enough material, even in the defence itself of Government, to justify the resolution and the urgent course that it recommends. Sir N. N. Sircar drew the attention of the House that in response to Mr. Fazlul Haq's letter to the Bengal Government "definite instructions had been issued to district officials enjoining the strictest neutrality in elections." If a Government which blindly supports its officials as the Bengal Government does, considered that there was a 'prima facie' case for "enjoining strictest neutrality" upon officials, we may take it that the official did interfere. And it lends point to Mr. Moitra's allegations that District Officers have not yet accepted the injunction completely.

A Grave Charge

Sir Henry Craik sought to make capital—after duly forgetting all about the Frontier Province and Dr. Khan Sahib—of what he considered to be a fact that "no charge had been made during the debate." He was immediately reminded of the U. P. Court of Wards Circular to which he did not reply. What is more he was promptly challenged by Mr. Jinnah thus: "I refrained from going into it after the statement made by the Law Member. Otherwise I could have said a great deal." Now, Mr. Jinnah is not a Congressman. What is more, he is accepted by Government themselves as a sober, balanced and responsible statesman. What he said, therefore, cannot be objected to by Sircars and Craiks as unfounded, malicious and mendacious and he gave enough hint to suggest that he had serious allegations to make. But he did make one. Interrupting Sir Md. Yakub, Mr. Jinnah asked: "Is the Honourable Member aware that even the Governor of the United Provinces is interfering in the matter?" One need not labour the gravity a situation or the amount of official interference when the head himself of a Provincial Government deliberately takes sides. And it is a non-Congressman like Mr. Jinnah who made that charge against the U. P. Government.

Breach Of Neutrality

As to the case of the North-West Frontier Province, Doctor Khan Sahib raised the following definite issues:—

"Government officials had either sent police to prevent the meetings from taking place, or arranged group of dancers' drum beaters in the vicinity to disturb meetings, or, applied section 144 unnecessarily,

or sent people to provoke disturbances.

Sir Aubrey Metcalfe who is supposed to have replied to Dr. Khan Sahib, did not deal with these specific charges. Instead, he re-echoed at length the ancient official diatribes against the Red Shirt which have remained as completely unsubstantiated as they have been persistently repeated. There is, however, one statement which he made and by which he surrendered the key to the official mind. He gave the following alarming and terrifying information to an innocent House:—

The latest reports indicated a tendency on the part of speakers to go even further, and to urge their audiences to ask for complete independence and "Red Shirt" dictatorship.

When was propaganda, conceded by Lord Irwin, for complete Independence banned? Sir Aubrey Metcalfe's urging "complete Independence" as a crime in electioneering is significant. So is his phrase "Red Shirt Dictatorship," which, of course, means nothing more or less than "Conservative Dictatorship," "Liberal Dictatorship" or "Labour-Socialist Dictatorship" during election days in England. There these and similar picturesque phrases are invented by Party propagandists. Here they are invented by—the Foreign Secretary to the Government of India. This, along with the whole trend of his speech which is definitely and unquestionably propagandist, proves that the defender of official neutrality was himself committing a breach of that very neutrality both in letter and spirit. His anxiety which betrays the whole situation in the Frontier Province is intelligible. Officialdom is thoroughly hostile to the Red Shirts because it knows, that the people, as Dr. Khan Sahib said, are behind them.

The British Position

The only conclusion that it is possible to draw from Sir Samuel Hoare's speech at the Conservative Party Conference is that all the talk that is going on in Geneva onder the leadership of Captain Anthony Eden is humbug and hypocrisy. Two lessons, according to Sir Samuel, stood out beyond fear of contradiction: first the futility of one-sided disarmament; second the need for a greatly strengthened British Empire as a stabilising force for peace. How interesting! But since every country claims, with exactly as much justification as Sir Samuel for his own, that the one stabilising force for peace is a greatly strengthened itself and its Empire, the whole question of peace, collective security or even individual security becomes a horribly dangerous farce. His speech not only completely ignores the basic principle of the Collective System, it also definitely proclaims that Britain has no faith in it and, what is more, is not going to help in establishing it. We note, by the way, a sneering reference by Sir Samuel Hoare to "perverted pacifism." If opposition to war is perversion of pacifism, real pacifism evidently means glorification of it. And that is what Sir Samuel really did mean.

Their First Duty

In her characteristically eloquent words, Mrs. Sarojini Naidu gave some pertinent advice to the members of the Bombay Muslim Students' Union. She wanted them to have a passion for liberty but at the same time warned them against devoting their time merely to words and slogans. Instead she asked them to make a keen study of their country's political and economic problems, to specialize in something which would ultimately benefit the country and to prepare themselves for a free India. These are words which every Indian student should ponder and take to heart for they indicate a definite and practical programme for our youth. To the Muslim students in particular she appealed for a wider national outlook which should deliver them from "the slavery of communalism." They would do a unique service, indeed, if the Muslim students not only imbibed this gospel but also spread it in their community.

A similar sentiment was expressed by Mr. Afzal Haq, President of the Punjab Ahrar Conference, who stressed the necessity of inculcating the idea of freedom and patriotism in the hearts of the younger generation in order to create sufficient sanction behind their demand for independence. With their intellectual equipment and manifold opportunities, the Muslim students can well form the spear-head of a drive to combat communalism and fight the forces of reaction. What is required is a keen realization on their part of the duty they owe to their country.

NUREMBERG CONGRESS AND AFTER

Russia Prepared "To Meet Stupid Dreams"

(From Our Own Correspondent).

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
PRAGUE, September 23.

The annual Nazi Congress held at Nuremberg has figured greatly in the discussions in the European Press during the last fortnight. The watchwords at this year's Nuremberg Congress were Germany's claim for expansion and attack on Soviet Union. Bound with the former were increased rigour of internal economy and the urge for extension of exports, and it was held out both as remedy and threat of a further march in the direction of self-sufficiency by the development of synthetic products.

Anti-Soviet Tirade

The tirade against Soviet Union was verbose and violent. These dominant notes struck at the Nuremberg Congress with vigour and often much virulence are widely regarded as meant to serve the demand of military revivalism and meet the urge for an activist course in the foreign sphere. In connection with the latter, the drive against Soviet Union is an old ambition, shown clearly enough in Herr Hitler's book "Mein Kampf," and it was well affirmed by the German Chancellor this time at Nuremberg with amazing frankness. Herr Hitler went so far at one place as actually to project the picture of Nazi control extended from Ukraine to Ural. The pressure of economic tightness and demands of military expansion, the latter well influencing the former, have been put forward at Nuremberg as demanding more sacrifices. Restrictions on wages and the raising of certain new taxes have been indicated as justified in a dual background of external threat to Germany and of the necessity of territorial expansion, with Soviet Union closely involved in both. The campaign against Soviet Union has been carried with considerably concentrated force and demagogy helped greatly by the close nature of control over press and propaganda in Germany. A statement by Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, the well-known Nazi leader and head of the Foreign Political Bureau of the Nazi Party, writing in an important Continental daily, gives an excellent instance of demagogic extravagance. In his speech at Nuremberg, Rosenberg is reported as having declared:—"Stalin, the Chief of the Third International is no Jew, however, also no Russian, but as is well-known a Caucasian. But behind him and above him looks out his father-in-law, Lazarus Mosseson Kaganowitch. He is the deputy of Stalin and according to Soviet decrees the same honours are to be shown to him in the absence of the Caucasian dictator." In reality, it is pointed out, not Stalin but Dimitrov is the "Chief" (General Secretary) of the Third International, Stalin is a widower since more than three years, Kaganowitch has no grown up daughter and is no deputy of Stalin, but only Commissar for Transport.

Reaction In Russia

Externally, the Nuremberg Congress, with Germany's military inclinations, has been seen with much critical attention. This is reflected in the comments of the press in France, Poland, various other neighbouring States, and also certain Italian papers. Russian reaction, as may be well imagined, is very pointed and sharp. Izvestia of Moscow refers to the "raving delirium" at Nuremberg. The Soviet Commissar for Defence, Marshal Voroschilow, in a speech four days back, taken as a reply to various declarations at Nuremberg, stated:—"Our army is ready to meet any attack on our territory. We will then not only safeguard our territory, but will attack the enemy in the land from which it comes. The struggle will be hard and terrible. But we are awake to meet stupid dreams." Reaction in Britain is again much divided and the fact is also recorded by important British papers that at Nuremberg the Nazi leaders, as the "Times" correspondent puts it, "hammered well" the idea of Anglo-German understanding. The British indecision is determined by the keen antagonism in certain influential sections in Brtiain to the Soviet Union on the one hand, and on the other hand, by the uncertainty about some of the implications of German aims. In France the cry against Soviet Union at Nuremberg has made little impression; in fact, comments of even Conservative organs like Echo de Paris and Action Francaise display concern at the tirade against Moscow as being bound more with Germany's expansionist speculations than with the much reiterated "bulwark of European civilization" role. The Polish position is indicated by Warsaw keeping to a

Companies Law Amendment Bill

What Powers And Duties Of Auditors Should Be

By P. D. SHAMDASANI XI

In my previous article I have referred to the Statutory Powers and Duties of Auditors as defined in Sections 131 (2) and 145 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, as proposed by the Bill amended by the Select Committee. In this article I propose dealing with the question as to what the Statutory Powers and Duties of Auditors should be.

In this connection Section 52 of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 (Act II of 1934) which is founded upon Regulation 60 of Schedule II to the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920 (Act XLVII of 1920) which is founded upon Section 48 of the Presidency Banks Act, 1876 (Act XI of 1876) which was founded upon Regulations 83, 92, 93 and 94 of the Indian Companies Act, 1866 (Act X of 1866) as aforesaid, may with advantage be referred to. It is in the words following:—

52 (1) Every auditor shall be supplied with a copy of the annual balance-sheet, and it shall be his duty to examine the same, together with the accounts and vouchers relating thereto; and every auditor shall have a list delivered to him of all books kept by the Bank, and shall at all reasonable times have access to the books, accounts and other documents of the Bank and may, at the expense of the Bank if appointed by it or at the expense of the Governor-General-in-Council if appointed by him, employ accountants or other persons to assist him in investigating such accounts, and may, in relation to such accounts, examine any Director or officer of the Bank.

(2) The auditors shall make a report to the shareholders or to the Governor-General-in-Council, as the case may be, upon the annual balance-sheet and accounts, and in every such report they shall state whether, in their opinion, the balance sheet is a full and fair balance-sheet containing all necessary particulars and properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Bank's affairs, and in case they have called for any explanation or information from the Central Board, whether it has been given and whether it is satisfactory. Any such report made to the shareholders shall be read together with the report of the Central Board, at the annual general meeting.

A comparison of the provisions on the subject in Regulations 83, 92, 93 and 94 of the Indian Companies Act, 1866 as aforesaid and Section 52 of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, as aforesaid with Section 113 of the English Companies Act, 1908 upon which Section 134 of the English Companies Act, 1929 and Section 145 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913 as amended by the Select Committee are founded, will show the fundamental defects in the Law—both English and Indian as regards the Powers and Duties of Auditors.

A Defect In Law

The Law—both English and Indian, as it stands, does not impose a duty and obligation upon the Auditors to audit the Balance Sheet and the Profit and Loss Account or the Income and Expenditure Account with the books, accounts and vouchers relating thereto and sign a "certificate" at the foot thereof to that effect and stating whether or not they have found them correct to insure and guarantee the absolute correctness of the Balance Sheet and the Profit and Loss Account or the Income and Expenditure Account and all figures statements and entries supporting them but only requires the Auditors to make a "Report" in the prescribed form. The rule is clearly established that "a certificate" is something that "makes certain," and is thus necessarily limited to facts capable of absolute verification, whereas "a Report" is something "brought back" in answer to an inquiry, and is thus an "account"—but not, of course, an account rendered by the accounting party but by an independent messenger selected for that purpose by reason of his possessing the necessary qualifications.

Need For A Certificate

I am clearly of opinion that upon the face of the Balance Sheet and the Profit and Loss Account or the Income and Expenditure Account there should appear a formal "certificate" on the part of the Auditor stating that they have audited the above Balance Sheet and the Profit and Loss Account or the Income and Expenditure Account with the books, accounts and vouchers relating thereto and have found them correct to insure and guarantee the absolute correctness of the Balance Sheet and the Profit and Loss Account or the Income and Expenditure Account and all figures statements and entries supporting them—a statement which, being a matter of fact, would be capable of certification, and that, in addition, there should appear a formal "Report" in the prescribed form. The certificate and the Report must be distinguished and the two should form one document.

Amendments Suggested

For the aforesaid reasons, I would strongly urge that Section 131 (2) and Section 145 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913 as amended by the Select Committee which are of vital importance to the shareholders and creditors of joint stock companies be so amended as to be in the words following:—

Section 131 (2) should be as follows:—

131 (2) The balance sheet and the profit and loss account or the income and expenditure account shall be audited by the auditor of the company as hereinafter provided, and the auditor's "certificate" and report shall be attached thereto, or there shall be inserted at the foot thereof, a reference to the "certificate" and report.

Section 145 should be as follows:—

145 (1) "Every auditor of a company shall be supplied with the balance sheet and the profit and

FRANKLY SPEAKING

FIRMNESS OF SELF-INTEREST.

The Conservative Party Conference has adopted "with acclamation" a resolution urging upon the British Government to reiterate Sir John Simon's statement to Herr Hitler that "cession of any British mandated territory was not a discussable question." Whether they do so publicly and unequivocably or not, we have no doubt that the Government cannot go against their Party and that they will not cede any British mandate territory. Nor can it be doubted that refusal is the only appropriate answer to the Nazi demand for Colonies. But one cannot help noting the contrast between Britain's firmness on the question of colonies and vacillation in regard to other demands and activities of Herr Hitler, for instance, his Rhineland adventure and his threats to Russia. It is obvious that the guiding factors in British policy vis-a-vis the Fuhrer are Imperialism and self-interest and not peace and respect for international obligations.

CLUMSY AND DISINGENUOUS

Sir Mohamed Yaqub has vindicated himself. When he led a deputation to the Viceroy and presented an address urging on His Excellency, however humbly, the necessity of a modification of the British foreign policy with regard to Palestine, there were many who were surprised. No one need be surprised, however, at the statement on the Viceroy's reply which he has promptly published. The lavish praise which he has bestowed on Lord Linlithgow and the vain and petty boast that "No Palestine Conference and resolutions passed at a Public Conference will carry half as much weight with the British Cabinet and the British people as our representation, communicated through the Viceroy of India, with his sympathy and recommendation" may be passed over as inconsequent effusion of a loyal Knight. But Sir Mohamed Yaqub is indulging in a deliberate attempt to mislead the public when he says that "our powerful pleadings and appeal to the British Cabinet, through the Viceroy of India, are bound to receive very careful consideration." He knows very well that, in his reply, the Viceroy has held out absolutely no hope whatsoever of the abrogation of Balfour declaration or the grant of independence to the Arabs of Palestine—the two main demands put forth by the delegation. He also knows it very well that at the very moment that the Viceroy was receiving the address "in good humour and in a sympathetic attitude," a British Order-in-Council was promulgating Martial Law in Palestine. Inspite of such overwhelming facts, Sir Mohamed Yaqub has sought to convince the Indian Muslims of the active sympathy of the Viceroy and the British Government by holding out false hopes. Does he realize how clumsy such tactics are?

A KUMTA COMPLAINT

We have received representations from the residents of Kumta protesting against the proposed location of a liquor warehouse in the old building of the Kumta Taluka Office, which is now transferred to its new premises. It appears that there is no proper accommodation for the local school, and that the District Local Board has long been negotiating for the Taluka Office building for housing the school. The building is centrally situated and will be very convenient for school purposes. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the District and Excise authorities will reconsider their decision and make the building available for the school. Apart from the need of the school, it hardly seems advisable to locate a liquor warehouse in the heart of the town. The protests of the people of Kumta are thus entirely justified, and the authorities will do well to heed them.

FAIZPUR EXHIBITION.

The General Secretary of the Khadi and Village Industries Exhibition which will be held at Faizpur during Congress week has issued a press note which deserves the attention of all those interested in the welfare of the rural population. Though the exhibition is a normal feature of the Congress sessions, this year it will have various new features. In accordance with the novel nature of the Faizpur Congress, the organisers of the exhibition have decided to give it a definitely rural bias for the villagers who will flock at Faizpur in larg numbers. The General Secretary of the Exhibition has, therefore, done well in making a timely appeal to the various producers and dealers in the goods concerned to participate in the exhibition and help to make it a unique success. We have no doubt the appeal will evoke a satisfactory response.

The Mayor's Walk-Out

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The Mayor's walk-out from the Taj Mahal Hotel function should inspire the Bombay Municipal Corporation with a determination to secure for its President—the Mayor of Bombay—a much higher place than what is given to him in the Warrant of Precedence.

Any reference to the dignity or the status of the President of the Corporation, now styled the Mayor of Bombay, the Corporation must remember, irresistibly reminds a man in the street of that matchless civic chief, Phirozeshah Mehta.

As Mayor of Bombay as the first citizen of the first city in India and, therefore, as the first citizen of India, Bombay's civic chief occupies an exalted position to which is lent additional dignity by the geographical position of this great city—the Gateway of India. The Mayor of Bombay is one of the few first to be privileged to welcome the British sovereign or his representative, the Viceroy of India when he lands on Indian soil. And, therefore, among Indian Mayors the Bombay Mayor occupies a unique position; and just as the Chief Justice of Bengal is placed much higher in the Warrant of Precedence for India than the Chief Justices of other High Courts the Bombay Mayor should be given his due place in the Warrant of Precedence not only for Bombay but for all India.

At purely social functions the question of precedence may not arise but at semi-official, non-official or purely official functions the host will naturally be guided by the place allotted to the Mayor in the Table of Precedence.

The Bombay Corporation which has preserved its individuality reflected in the observance of Bombay time should once more assert its importance to secure for its

We congratulate our prophetic soul.

And we wonder which of the Bombay Muslim "leaders" will follow suit.

What is, however, more interesting about the Delhi Muslims referred to above, is the advice that Indian Muslims should "leave the Muslims of Palestine to the mercy of God."

Splendid! The answer to the question: "Why didn't they leave themselves and their fellow-Muslim "leaders" to the mercy of God rather than to that of Government and Separate Electorate," is that the Junior Colleague is irrelevant and doesn't know that it is charity and not faith in God which begins at home.

Sir Md. Yakub, however, differs from the Delhi Muslim "leaders" as to the alternative. He is, of course, at one with them in regard to the necessity of Indian Muslims leaving the Palestine Muslims. But they should leave the latter to the mercy of the Viceroy and the British Government.

Oh, yes. A statement to that effect has been duly issued by the knight-leader of the deputation to Lord Linlithgow.

And we most sincerely congratulate our prophetic soul.

Managing Agent And Business Morality

Sir Cowasji's Amendment To Companies Bill Evokes Strong Opposition

SIMLA, October 2.

The Legislative Assembly met to-day. The question hour was dispensed with to speed up the progress of the Company Bill.

Pandit Govind Ballabh Pant sought the permission of the House to move the adjournment of the Assembly to discuss the "refusal of the Government of India to foster and help the project for an Indian-owned service between India and Europe as disclosed in the statement of Mr. Walchand Hirachand published in the Press."

The President wished to know how the motion was in order.

PT. PANT EXPLAINS.

Pandit Pant explained that the Government of India in their decisions on the mercantile marine report and in the communique arising out of the shipping conference of 1930, took the responsibility for encouragement of Indian shipping, including overseas service. There was correspondence between Mr. Walchand Hirachand and the Governor-General. The Company wished to spend two crores and twenty lakhs of rupees to launch two ships and asked the Government to guarantee three per cent on the capital for ten years. This request was not accepted.

(Sir Zafrullah. That happened last winter) and the promoter of the company approached the head of the Government, whose private secretary wrote in the middle of August last that His Excellency had already asked the Commerce Department to reconsider the question of financial assistance to an Indian company, apart from the question of participation of any particular company.

Mr. Walchand received another letter on September 23 asking him to submit any further memorandum. On September 30 Mr. Walchand Hirachand was informed (Sir N. N. Sircar:—This is itself a speech on the motion) that the request for assistance could not be entertained. Now that all avenues have been exhausted, it was a matter the House should take up.

Sir Mohamed Zafrullah: "Government refused to reconsider their previous decision."

RULED OUT OF ORDER.

The President said that the matter could not be said to be of recent occurrence, nor was it an emergent question. He therefore ruled it out of order.

POWERS OF MANAGING AGENTS.

The debate on the Companies Bill was resumed. Clause forty-two was further discussed.

The following agreed amendment of Sir Homi Mody was adopted without division "except with the consent of three-fourths of the directors present and entitled to vote on the resolution, a managing agent of the company or firm of which he is a partner or any partner of such a firm or if the managing agent is a private company a member or a director thereof shall not enter into any contract for sale, purchase or supply of goods and materials with the company provided nothing herein contained shall affect any such contract for such sale, purchase or supply entered into before the commencement of the new Act."

Considerable discussion followed on Pandit Pant's amendment relating to the restriction on managing agents' powers of management. The object of the amendment was to the effect that not only the powers of the managing agents be restricted in regard to the issue of debentures, but also regarding the issue of capital or make calls. Eventually the house by 51 votes to 38 rejected the amendment.

The entire afternoon was devoted to disposing of several amendments to the Companies Bill.

The President read the Governor-General's message disallowing Mr. Saxena's adjournment motion on the ground that it was a matter not primarily the concern of the Government of India.

Mr. Hofmeyr and two other members of the South African Delegation were present in the Vice-regal Box and watched the proceedings for some time.

SIR COWASJI'S AMENDMENT.

There was an interesting debate on Sir Cowasji Jehangir's amendment urging deletion of Section 87-H namely:—"A Managing Agent shall not on his own account engage in any business which is of the same nature as the business carried on by the company under his management."

Strong opposition to the deletion was voiced by Messrs. Desai, Satyamurti, Ananthasayanam, Pant, Venkatachalam and Aney, who contended that ordinary business morality and interest of the company of which he is a Managing Agent required that he should not participate in competition.

Messrs. Hudson and Chapman Mortimer supported Sir Cowasji's view point, declaring that such a clause would hamper business and put restriction on trade.

SATYAMURTI WINS

Eventually the House adopted Mr. Satyamurti's amendment which stated that a Managing Agent should not engage himself in any business which is of the same nature and directly competing with the business carried on by the company under his management or by a subsidiary company of such company.

The House also adopted Mr. Avanashilingam's amendment declaring that the office of a Managing Agent shall be vacated if he is adjudged insolvent.

Mr. Satyamurti moved an amendment that no Managing Agent shall have any power to appoint more than one director of the company of which he is Managing Agent.

Discussion had not concluded when the House adjourned till Monday.—A.P.

U. P. Congress Committee Urges Reconsideration Of Attitude If Interference Is Persisted

(From Our Correspondent.)

ALLAHABAD, October 2.

The Council of the United Provinces' Congress Committee passed a sensational resolution criticising the Government's "organised opposition" to the Congress in the ensuing elections. The resolution says that if this policy is going to be further pursued, "the Council may have to request the U.P.C.C. and the A. I. C. C. to consider afresh the whole policy of contesting elections in these Provinces." It refers to widespread interference of the Government departments and their persistent attempts to oppose and hinder the Congress. It refers to the Court of Wards' circular and the exploitation of rural uplift programme in this behalf.

From numerous reports received by the P.C.C. office, it appears that such opposition is in pursuance of a deliberate policy. Further the Council learns that efforts are being made not to introduce the system of coloured boxes for voting.

The Council also apprehends that Congress candidates may be disqualified from standing for election as was done during the last Local Board elections.

FLOOD RELIEF.

The Council further passed a resolution thanking individuals and public bodies for their help in flood disaster. It is also felt that relief really demanded by the nature of the case could be rendered only by the State and the Zamindars of the tracts affected. The Council regretted to note that measures so far adopted by the Government were totally inadequate and takavi loans would go only a little way to alleviate distress.

The Council suggests (1) sufficient grants to tenants, (2) total remission of rent and revenue for the current year, (3) suspension in realisation of arrears of rent and debts owed by peasants for two years at least and (4) deduction in rent, where the fields had been washed away, etc.

ALLEGED INTERFERENCE OF GOVT. OFFICIALS.

ALLAHABAD, Oct. 2.

The Executive Council of the United Provinces Provincial Congress Committee has passed a resolution, to-day, alleging interference of Government officials in the coming elections, and states that if this policy is going to be pursued, the Committee may be compelled to request the Provincial Congress Committee and the A. ANGLO-SOVIET NAVAL TREATY

Complete Agreement Reached Pending Approval By Other Govts.

LONDON Oct. 1

A complete agreement has been reached regarding the text of Anglo-Russian Naval Treaty, subject to approval by the Governments concerned, and to Germany's adherence to the 1936 Three-Power London Naval Treaty.

The agreement follows the principles of the 1936 Treaty, except that Russia will have the right to build seven cruisers with 7.1 inch guns, instead of 6.1 the limit laid down by the treaty, and, as regards the Far East, she will have a free hand, except that she undertakes not to build vessels in the Far East, outside, the limits of the 1936 Treaty.

This means that if Japan exceeds these limits, Russia will be permitted to do likewise. Russia also undertakes not to transfer from the Far East to Europe or the Black Sea, any vessels constructed in the Far East exceeding the qualitative limits of the 1936 Treaty.

It is understood however that Russia is not bound to exchange information concerning the Far Eastern construction.—Reuter.

REBUFF TO GOVERNMENT

Noteworthy Feature Of Margate Conference

LONDON Oct. 1

A noteworthy feature of the Margate conference was the rebuff suffered by Government on the mandates question by the defeat of the amendment that expressed the official attitude.

The Conference showed itself entirely out of sympathy with Government's refusal to pledge itself definitely not to discuss the question.

Sir Samuel Hoare unsuccessfully attempted to rally the delegates to the official view.

The amendment that the conference should accept the Prime Minister's declaration of April, that Government will not enter into commitments without fullest discussion in the House of Commons was defeated and the resolution was then passed.—Reuter.

NATIVE INSTITUTIONS VALUABLE

LONDON, (By Air Mail).

Any policy which does not foster native institutions must result in the "detribalisation" of the native and the destruction of all African atmosphere.

This warning is contained in the annual report on "Togoland" which is under British mandate, presented to the League of Nations.

"Outside influences", it is pointed out, "can quite easily destroy all tribal institutions and traditions unless those institutions are carefully fostered and grafted on to the modern organisation.

"The first principle of the Gold Coast Government has been to adopt for the purpose of local Government the institutions which the people themselves have evolved through the ages, modified where necessity demands it, but moulded so that the people may develop on their own lines and stand in due course on their own feet. This policy is carried out in both spheres and there has been no variation from it".

"Much" it is added, "has been said of the harm done by the colonising European, who divides and upsets those lands on which his shadow falls".

That saying, however, did not apply to Dogombo, where for a hundred years before the coming of the European, Civil War had followed the death of each chief.

"Dogombo to-day is more closely knit than it has been for a century and for that it has to thank the European".

PARULEKAR'S ARREST RAISED IN COUNCIL

Bell Presumes Police Action Of Hand-Cuffing And Roping Necessary

FAMINE RELIEF BILL PASSED

POONA: Oct. 2.

The Bombay Council met to-day at 2 o'clock with the Hon. Mr. Hoosein Ali Rahimtoola in the Chair.

The printed question list was almost stale to-day, and but for Rao Bahadur Chitale's short-notice question, it had no interest.

PARULEKAR'S ARREST.

Rao Bahadur Chitale, Leader of the Opposition, in a short notice question asked about the report that appeared in the "Bombay Chronicle" of 23rd Sept. as regards the arrest on the previous day of Mr. S. V. Parulekar, member of the Servants of India Society in the Resident Magistrate's Court at Kalyan, when he had gone there to stand a trial.

The Home Member Sir Robert Bell replying stated that the Government had seen the "Chronicle" report, and it was a fact that Mr. Parulekar was arrested, and then later on handcuffed and roped in Court.

Asked if the Resident Magistrate ordered the arrest of about 50 persons, including some women outside the Court, the Home Member replied that the Resident Magistrate had ordered the arrest of several persons.

Mr. L.R. Gokhale asked why Mr. Parulekar was handcuffed and roped and if any emergency had necessitated such an action.

Sir Robert Bell replying said that his presumption was that the Police took that step on finding it necessary. The situation there was very tense, and the Police had to requisition help to escort Mr. Parulekar and other prisoners to the Court room. Some of the crowd were presumably prepared to obstruct Mr. Parulekar's removal and the Police had to handcuff him.

Mr. Gokhale: "So it was in his own interests that Mr. Parulekar was handcuffed."

Mr. Syed Munawar asked, if Mr. Parulekar had refused to go without handcuffs to which the Home Member replied that he had no information.

FAMINE RELIEF FUND.

The Revenue Member, Khan Bahadur Cooper then introduced and moved the first reading of the Bill to provide for the establishment and maintenance of the Bombay Presidency a fund called the Bombay Famine Relief Fund, for meeting expenditure at the time of serious famine or distress caused by serious drought, flood or other natural calamities.

ORIGIN OF FAMINE FUND.

Khan Bahadur Cooper said that prior to 1878/79 there was no regular provision in the Indian Budget for famine expenditure. Regularity of its occurrence, however, compelled Government to make suitable provision for meeting that expenditure from current revenues and for this purpose they were increased by 150 lakhs. Upto 1907-8 the expenditure was a Provincial charge; but then it was made a Central liability. In 1917-18, however, liability was divided between the Central and Provincial Governments in the proportion of three to one.

PROVINCIAL SUBJECT.

With the Reforms in 1921, Famine Relief was made Provincial subject and under Schedule 4 of Devolution Rules, the Bombay Government was required to provide every year a sum of Rs. 6,360,000 for expenditure on Relief and insurance against famine. With substantial annual assignment the fund grew rapidly, the balance in 1926-27 being two crores and a half. So large an annual assignment being thought unnecessary, the Government of India were approached and subsequently annual assignment was provisionally reduced to Rs. 33,60,000 per year and finally in 1927 it was fixed at Rs. 12 lakhs only. It was also laid down that annual contribution should cease as soon as the fund mounted up to an accumulation of Rs. 75 lakhs.

NO PROVISION IN NEW ACT.

Owing to Sind separation the annual assignment and minimum balance for fund have been refixed at 10 and 63 lakhs respectively. Under the revised Rule 4 the annual assignment can only be spent for famine relief while the unspent money must go to the main fund. The New Government of India Act makes no provision for maintainance of this fund after provincial autonomy. The question of financing relief measures in times of scarcity or famine was left to their discretion. The matter was discussed at the Simla Conference of Provincial financial representatives as also at the Public Accounts Committee and the establishment of the Famine Relief Fund under New Constitution was suggested and thought of. The present Bill had been brought with this end in view and when it was passed, the balance now lying in the fund with the Government of India would be transferred automatically to this new fund.

FIRST READING PASSED.

Mr. Gokhale asked if "serious famine" was anywhere defined in the Act.

Diwan Bahadur Cooper pointed to the amended Devolution Rules.

Mr. Bhailal Patel opposed the motion on the ground that such a bill be binding the future legislature should not be rushed through the present session.

Mr. Karbhari supporting the measure suggested that the amount should be invested in Government securities, interest thereon being utilised as "insurance against factors of nature."

Mr. Kamat objected to the use of the adjective "serious in case of famine" in the preamble and body of the Bill and suggested its deletion.

Mr. Soman and Surve made suggestions that provision for annual assignment should be made in the Bill.

Mr. Gangoli complained that word "famine" was nowhere defined in the Act.

Khan Bahadur Cooper then replied to the debate after which the first reading of the Bill was passed by an overwhelming majority.

DELETE "SERIOUS."

Khan Bahadur Cooper then moved the second reading of the Bill and consideration of the Bill Clause by Clause was proceeded with. The first four Clauses were passed without modification after some discussion. To Clause Five, Mr. Bhailal Patel moved one important amendment seeking to delete word "serious" from that part of the clause where it was mentioned that the fund should not be expended except upon relief of "serious famine."

Mr. Gokhale supporting the Amendment stated that objection to the word "serious" was undoubtedly serious (Laughter.)

Rao Bahadur Chitale opposed the amendment saying that deletion or retention of the word mattered very little.

The Thakore Saheb of Kerwada did not think that retention of the word did not make any difference and thought that no harm would be done if that word was dropped.

Sir Raffiuddin Ahmed, supporting the amendment, asked if the Government of India had insisted on the retention of that word. He suggested that the matter should not be stretched too far as, in the case of starvation, how could there be "serious" starvation.

BILL BECOMES LAW.

After Khan Bahadur Cooper's reply Mr. Bhailal wished to withdraw his amendment, but the House refusing leave, a division was forced and amendment was defeated by 26 votes to 15.

The remaining Clauses of the Bill were then adopted without modifications, the House finally passing the second and third readings of the Bill.

The House then adjourned to tomorrow.

Experts To Examine Mr. Sen's Report

FOREIGN INTERESTS DOMINATE SHOW

No Representation For Policy-Holders In Committee

(From A Special Correspondent)

The personnel of the Expert Committee to examine Mr. S. C. Sen's report in connection with insurance legislation will, according to Sir N. N. Sircar's time-table, be announced before the end of the present Assembly session.

From inquiries made in informed circles in Simla, it appears that the expert committee will be overweighted with European interests.

The Fire Offices' Association, Calcutta, Life Offices Association, Calcutta, the Lloyds, and the Insurance Legislation Committee Calcutta, all of them representing foreign Insurance interests in India have been given one representative each in the Committee.

The Fire Offices Association, Bombay, Life Offices Association, Small Life Offices Association, Calcutta, and Provident Insurance Companies Association, all representing Indian interests have been given representation on the Committee. It is understood that an Indian Insurance magnate long connected with foreign interests will also be nominatd by the Government to the Committee as a representative of both the House of the Legislature.

ORDERS FROM WHITEHALL?

Mr. S. C. Sen whose report is to be the basis of discussion has been ruled out of the Committee on the ostensible ground that the inquiry should be impartial. But it is rather strange that the Lloyds against whom allegations of dumping have been made are cleverly foisted in the Committee, presumably under orders from Whitehall.

In spite of the fact that Mr. Sen has reported against the managing agency system in quasi-public institutions like banks and insurance companies, it is curious that almost all the representatives in the Committee are either managing agents or their protege. The most glaring omission is the absence of a representative to champion the cause of thousands of policy-holders whose interests are sought

Amarnath Greets His Comrades

Says Inquiry Will Reveal Who Is Guilty Party In "The Affair"

Amarnath, the Indian Cricketer in "disgrace," arrived in Bombay on Friday morning and rushed to the Taj Mahal Hotel to meet his comrades, who had arrived the previous day. Each and every member of the team were happy to meet the all-round cricketer who, they recognised, had been treated very badly.

Excepting that he was glad that an inquiry had been set afoot by the Board of Cricket Control, Amarnath was not prepared to say anything. He felt sure that the inquiry would reveal as to who was the guilty party in the "whole affair."

THINGS MUST BE CLEARED.

Enquiries made go to show that the officials of the Board of Cricket Control are firm in their attitude about continuing the inquiry in spite of the alleged attempts to sabotage it. In the interests of the future of Indian Cricket and its good name, they feel it essential that things should be cleared once and for all, so that in future at least, Indian teams, either meeting foreign teams in India or touring outside, would be one which would not follow in the foot steps of the 1936 team.

TERMS OF REFERENCE.

The Terms of Reference of the Enquiry Commission are vague but comprehensive. There is nothing to prevent Sir John Beaumont and his two colleagues from tracing the whole trouble, if necessary to the 1932 tour and how things were got done even then and what part the Maharaj Kumar played in it, how and why it was that he did not accompany that team.

Propaganda against the present enquiry is slowly spreading in Bombay among people who are considered the elite. "What does he know of Cricket?" was the question a Bombay Knight asked about a respectable member of the Commission. One has only to visit the Taj Mahal Hotel just to know how things are sought to be managed to sabotage the enquiry.

EVIDENCE RECORDED.

Sir John Beaumont, the Chairman of the Commission on Friday evening took the evidence of M.J. Gopalan, Baqua Jilani, Amir Elahi and Palia, who were taken to his residence by Mr. A. S. De Mello, the Secretary of the Board of Cricket Control.

It appears that the enquiry, both on Thursday and Friday, was in the form of oral questions and answers. The Chief Justice of Bombay talked to each player separately and asked him a number of questions. All the players who have given evidence, would go to their places and send in a detailed written statement, which will come up before the Inquiry Committee on the 7th of this month by which time Dr. Subbarayon and Sir Sikander Hyat Khan will be in Bombay. If necessary, the members of the team will be sent for again.

AMARNATH TO FACE COMMITTEE TO-DAY.

Amarnath will be giving his oral evidence before the Chairman of the Inquiry Committee to-day (Saturday), and it is expected that his evidence will last for a fairly long time. Other members to be examined on Saturday are: Amarsingh, Hindlekar, Bannerjee, Meherhomji and Mushtaque Ali.

M.J. Gopalan left for Madras on Friday by the Madras Mail, while Wazir Ali left for Bhopal, from where he is expected to send a detailed statement of the happenings during the tour. Baqua Jilani also left for Lahore on Friday.

L. Amarnath, the Lahore cricketer arrived yesterday in Bombay to appear before the Beaumont Enquiry Committee.

to be protected in the new Legislation.

There are grave misgivings in certain circles that a packed committee like this will practically sabotage Mr. Sen's framework. The main issue before the Committee is the question of dumping.

But there are other equally important issues like standardisation of policy conditions, loans, surrender value and forefeiture and automatic extension clauses which vary from company to company in India.

These are questions vitally affecting policy-holders and unless they are in corporated in the new Bill, Insurance Reform Bill will not be complete.

AROUND THE COURTS

BOMBAY, Friday.

The ruse of dressing themselves as Parsis was adopted by two officers of the Prevention of Gambling Squad in the raid on a room in Karanjia Building, Grant Road on Thurday night.

It was stated that the raid resulted in three arrests, instruments of gaming and Rs. 140 including marked coins.

Messrs D. J. Javeri, J. C. Javeri and D. M. Dubash the accused were bailed out at the Girgaum Court till the 12th instant.

A landlord and rent collector were arrested by the Maharbouri Police on charges of wrongful restraint.

It was stated that one Tulshidas Narshidas, a resident of Vishwas Building, 7th Lane Khetwadi found his room with strange locks on his return from Ahmedabad on the 12th instant.

It seems that the complainant was served with a quit notice in August last towards the end of which month he left for Ahmedabad.

Enquiries showed that the rent collector locked the room at the orders of the landlord.

Chandulal Narshidas and Bhagwanding Sing Gayadin Sing were both bailed out at the Girgaum Court to-day, till 16th instant.

A person, who is alleged to have decamped after having placed his friend as a surety, from a money-lender's shop, was arrested by the person who stood surety yesterday and was handed over to the Bhoiwada Police.

It was stated that Antony Fernandez persuaded Pedro G. Santone Gracious to accompany him to a Marwari's shop. Having received the money and assuring that he would bring a gold chain, he went away, but never returned.

Since that time July 27th last, he was not seen till he was arrested yesterday accidentally.

Mr. M A. F. Coelho, Presidency Magistrate, Dadar, before whom he was put up this morning, ordered him to be bailed out in the sum of Rs. 50.

A verdict of death by shock and haemorrhage following fracture of skull and laceration of brain due to his having been accidentally knocked down at Peddar Road, was returned by the Coroner's jury, to-day, at the inquest held on the body of Ramlal Desai aged 25.

Brought in an unconscious condition to the K. E. M. Hospital, where she was treated for two days, a young respectable Gujarati woman, picked up near the Poisal Bridge (B. B. and C. I. Railway), is now lying in the K. E. M. Hospital morgue with no one, so far, to claim the body.

The woman is aged, it is stated 25 years and she was picked near the bridge between Borivali and Kandivli with injuries all over her body, on September 28 last.

The Deputy Station Master of Kandivli stated before the City Coroner, to-day, that he walked up to the Railway tracks in receipt of a telephone message and finding the body on the track, stopped a "down-ward train" and entrusted the woman to the guard.

Two days later the woman succumbed to her injuries.

The Coroner's Jury, in classifying the case as accidental, remarked that the woman was travelling from Grant Road to Dadar at night (as a ticket found in her person showed) and she evidently fell asleep and when she got up at Kandivli, she jumped out of the train realising that she had been over-carried.

MAN STABBED AT BYCULLA.

The residents of Byculla were thrown in a great panic this morning over the news that a Muslim had stabbed a Hindu near Victoria Gardens. The panic however soon quieted down when police investigation showed that the incident nad no religious significance but was one of those every day affairs in which knives are flourished without any compunction.

It appears from enquiries that Abdul Ahmed, the alleged assailant, was employed in a tea shop in Tyeb Building situate at Victoria Gardens Road, Byculla. After his work in the hotel at midnight, he used to sleep on the foot path near the hotel.

He was, however, disturbed in his sleep every night by the glaring light reflecting over his head from the staircase of Tyeb Building. This morning at about 3 a.m. he got up and smashed the bulb of the electric light with a stone which was noticed by Yeshwant Genu residing in the same building.

Yeshwant reported this matter to the hotel proprietor in the morning which annoyed Abdulla.

A little while after this incident while Yeshwant was alighting from the staircase. Abdulla accosted him and and it is alleged, stabbed him with a knife several times. The cries of Yeshwant brought a number of men to his rescue and Abdulla was handed over to the police. Yeshwant is lying in a precarious condition in the J. J. Hospital where his deposition has been recorded by the Honorary Presidency Magistrate.

BAN ON ENTRY INTO S. AFRICA

Injustice To Indian Boxer Who Trained British Soldiers

POSER FOR 'GOODWILL' DELEGATION

Mr. C. P. Billimoria of Sachapir Street, Poona has addressed the following letter to "The Chronicle":—

I wish to draw your attention to the unjust treatment that has been meted out to the well-known Parsi Boxer of India, Burma and Ceylon, namely, Fali Billimoria, who has many championship titles to his credit in these countries by the South African Government.

About two years ago, this Boxer was offered Rs. 6,000 for a fight in South Africa by a well-known promoter from that country and was promised two more contracts by the same promoter if he either won his fight or made a good show.

Only recently, however, my son, Fali Billimoria, received a letter from his promoter informing him of the fact that he was finding it very difficult to arrange about his entry into South Africa, and further requesting him to communicate with Kunwar Sir Maharaj Singh, Kt., C.I.E., Home Member to the Government of United Provinces, in this matter, with a view to interest him as he was Agent to the Governor-General in South Africa before. My son, therefore, wrote to Kunwar Sir Maharaj Singh requesting his help and received a disappointing reply.

Since then my son has received another letter from the Government of India saying that he cannot enter South Africa and returning to him his passport fees, etc.

Under these circumstances I feel certain that you will, as is usual with you, champion the cause of an Indian Sportsman who has been debarred from entering South Africa for sporting purposes presumably for the reason that he happens to be an Indian. The injustice of the whole thing will be patent to all who have any regard for justice and fairplay. Incidentally, I may add that we have in our midst at this very date the Goodwill Delegation from the South African Union Government.

My son was appointed Boxing Instructor to a British Regiment namely, the 1st Battalion: The Norfolk Regiment at present at Jhansi, and his regiment has done very well in Army Boxing in India, as they topped the list.

WHY LET A Narrowed Tube ROB YOU OF Youth!

(AND EVENTUALLY LIFE ITSELF!)

Study these pictures and learn the real cause of

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Supposing you had a small hand-pump with a piece of rubber tubing attached. The flow of water would be normal while the tubing was normal. But supposing you pressed the tubing a little. What would happen? Naturally a greater effort would be required to pump the water through the narrowed tube. And you would become fatigued sooner. Now an artery is rather like a bit of rubber tubing. Its job is to convey new blood to all the vital body cells. The heart is the human pump. It has to force this life-giving blood through the arteries. If the tubing (or arteries) is narrowed in some way, the heart must work harder to force the blood through. This leads to heart weakness and ends in heart-failure.

How do Arteries become Narrowed?

About the age of 40, though often before, lime salts deposits in the arteries render them narrow and brittle—just like perished rubber tubing. The proper flow of blood is restricted. The body cells are deprived of full nourishment. The over-worked heart is weakened. Vigour and interest in daily affairs are lost and Premature Old Age overtakes the sufferer. This disorder is High Blood Pressure. It has nothing to do with "too much blood" or "blood that is too rich."

The Wonderful Power of 'Phyllosan' Tablets.

What are 'Phyllosan' Tablets? The chief constituent of 'Phyllosan' Tablets is a vegetable extract described by eminent scientists as being "The Most Wonderful Substance in our World." It supplies a vitalizing, rejuvenating substance upon which every living thing on this earth depends. Dr. Buergi, M.D., of Berne University, Switzerland, under whose personal supervision 'Phyllosan' Tablets are made, spent 15 years critical research before he succeeded in isolating this wonderful substance without detriment to its vitalizing power. This substance takes the carbon, nitrogen, salts and water absorbed by the plants and under the influence of sunlight, TRANSFORMS THEM INTO LIVING MATERIAL STORED WITH VITAL ENERGY.

'Phyllosan' Tablets increase all your Physical and Vital Forces, irrespective of Age.

When 'Phyllosan' Tablets are taken they immediately begin the good work of renewing and re-invigorating every body cell; clear away the lime salts deposits that are choking the arteries and fortify the heart. Each day during the treatment sees new vigour and a new outlook on life.

NORMAL ARTERY (Highly Magnified)
This illustration of an artery cut through shows you its three strong elastic coats and normal aperture which allows unrestricted passage of blood.

NARROWED ARTERY (Highly Magnified)
Here the artery is being strangled by lime salts deposits. The aperture is narrowed and the three coats have lost their elasticity and power to expand and contract.

Not only does the body benefit, the brain, too, becomes clearer and more active.

Do 'Phyllosan' Tablets act Quickly?

Abundant evidence is available to prove that 'Phyllosan' Tablets are amazingly quick in effect as well as amazingly efficacious. It has been proved conclusively that 'Phyllosan' Tablets renew the blood stream WITHIN 14 DAYS. A typical case published in the Swiss Medical Weekly concerned a man 51 years of age suffering with severe blood-pressure. After ONE MONTH of 'Phyllosan' Tablets, blood pressure dropped to nearly normal, while heart symptoms, difficult breathing, and giddiness vanished entirely.

"THE CASE AGAINST MRS. AMES"

At Pathe

The declaration, an axiom in legal offices, motivates one of the climatic scenes in Walter Wanger's new drama for Paramount, "The Case Against Mrs. Ames," shown to-night at the Pathe Cinema Theatre.

Prosecuting beautiful Madeleine Carroll, who plays the title role in the picture, George Brent accuses an all-man murder jury of having been swayed by the defendant's charms. Had the jury been composed of women, he holds it would have returned a virdict more completely based on the evidence—a verdict of guilty.

Brent's charge is one which has a familiar ring to newspaper readers. Time and time again, a flagrant miscarriage of justice has been blamed on the fact that a woman has been tried for murder by a jury of men.

Yet in twenty-seven of the nation's forty-eight states, all juries are still womanless juries. More than half of America bans women from the jury box entirely!

State by State, laws have been amended to permit juries of both men and women. Yet the change has meant bitter fighting in every case; New York is to-day battling over the issue.

The womanless jury has been supplanted by mixed juries so far only in Arkansas, California, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Jersey, North Dakota Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin, and in Alaska and the District of Columbia.

The Ames trial is set in California, where mixed juries are possible. The Ames jury is all-male because a defence attorney was smart enough to dismiss all women called for jury duty. But in twenty-seven States it would be all-male automatically!

Womanless juries, attorneys say, are a legal "hangover" from the days before the Women's Suffrage Amendment, when women were considered inferiors and were denied the vote. Original jury laws like the original suffrage laws were drawn to qualify only adult male citizens.

When the Amendment was ratified, it held only that "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex". No mention was made of other rights or privileges limited by State laws.

Some States changed their jury laws within a short time. Others have resisted change when it has been proposed.

When a change has been opposed, the arguments usually brought forward are based on minor objections. Some legislators have held that women are unfit to serve on juries because of a tendency to be swayed by emotion. Others have branded women as illogical, incapable of taking cold facts and balancing them one against the other.

"ONCE IN A MILLION"

A Comdey Of Complications

For those in search of a bright, sparkling romantic comedy, "Once in a Million", which comes to the Excelsior Theatre this week, would be hard to equal.

Set in Paris, this is a story of a young bank clerk who finds himself left through the early closing of the bank, with a fortune to guard over the week-end. He has the money placed in the strong room of one of the principle hotels and is, of course, mistaken for a millionaire.

A well-known dress designer, in order to advertise his wares has had one of his mannequins installed at the hotel as the Countess de Fleury. The bogus millionaire and the spurious Countess meet and fall in love, but each thinks the other on too high a social scale for anything to come of their romance.

There are complications galore, but they are always bright and amusing, although they may be exceedingly disconcerting to the characters in the film.

Buddy Rogers and Mary Brian are co-starring in this, the second film Rogers has made for British International Pictures, his first being the phenomenally successful "Dance Band".

Also in the cast are Haver and Lee, the famous radio stars, W. H. Berry, John Harwood, Nadine March, BillyMilton, Norah Gale and other well-known players. Arthur Woods directed.

"San Francisco" at the Central from this Saturday with Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy.

"LET'S SING AGAIN"

At The Capitol

The fame and applause which Bobby Breen earned with his golden-voiced tenor on Eddie Cantor's radio broadcasts follow him to the sound screen on which this eight-year-old vocal marvel makes his bow in "Let's Sing Again." Once in a blue moon a delightful personality comes to the screen as an absolute sensation. Such is Bobby Breen. We promise that you will sit on the edge of your seats enthralled by the dreamlike voice intonating operatic arias, folk tunes and popular melodies in English and Italian. "La donna e mobile," from "Rigoletto," an air only attempted by finished singers, is sung with ease by Bobby, as well, "Santa Lucia" "Oh, Marie," "Lullaby," and the title song, "Let's Sing Again" The lullaby and the title song should set America a-humming, a-dancing and a-whistling! No wonder Bobby's voice has been compared to that of the immortal Enrico Caruso! And a word about Bobby's magnificent dramatic talent! His performance as the orphan, whose voice is developed by a tent show roust about and is eventually reunited with a long-lost father, indicates a brilliant histrionic future for the boy. He acts with seasoned skill, confidence and an intelligent understanding of direction.

As a first of series of productions starring Bobby Breen, sponsored by Sol Lesser "Let's Sing Again" shows excellent choice. Bobby's career under the aegis of the circus worker, an erstwhile opera singer, is set against colourful backgrounds ranging from a complete carnival on wheels to a New York broadcasting studio and an opera Star's sumptuous residence Bobby and Joe Pasquale, his circus tutor, come to this latter locale in one of the most tender climaxes this reviewer has seen on the screen this season. It is the reunion of a son and a father, separated for about seven years, now brought together by the magic of a lullaby the parent used to sing to his baby. And don't feel ashamed about the lump in the throat and the tear in the eye this charming denouement will produce in you.

All the elements of good entertainment are embodied in "Let's Sing Again," making it excellent fare for young and old. There's comedy and moments of drama in the performance of the chief featured player, Henry Armetta, Italian dialectician whose mere screen appearance evokes the laughs. George Houston, as Bobby's father, provides heart interest. Mr. Houston also deserves acclaim for his vocal renditions with his opera-trained voice. Vivienne Osborne and Houston, offer a pleasant romantic angle, and Inez Courtney, Lucien Littlefield, Grant Withers, Anna Doran and Richard Carle round out a splendid cast.

Hugo Riesenfeld should not go without mention for his excellent musical direction of "Let's Sing Again." Kurt Neumann directed this Sol Lesser Production released by RKO Radio Pictures.

Settings so fantastic that they startle the imagination from the background for Universal's serial "Flash Gordon" which are being shown in two instalments at the Plaza (Tilak Bridge, Dadar). First twelve parts are to be shown from to-day. Buster Crabbe, the famous lion-man, is in the title role. The amazing rocket ship which shoots through stratosphere comes to the screen from to-day with feats of super-human strength that will take breath away. All the fascination of the mythical planet of Mongo, created by Alex Raymond, is emphasised in this new production of "Flash Gordon" which Fredrick Stephani directed. Jean Rogers, Charles Middleton, and Priscilla Lawson have the

"LIMELIGHT"—LONDON THEATRELAND STORY

At The Regal

"Limelight" showing at the Regal Theatre from next Saturday, is the first picture of a new independent film-making company, Herbert Wilcox Production. Everything that Herbert Wilcox does is spectacular—and "Limelight" is no exception. It is the first "back-stage" picture ever to be made in England and puts Charing Cross Road and Shaftsbury Avenue and the rest of London's theatreland on the same screen footing as many Hollywood pictures have put Broadway. In addition, "Limelight" stars Anna Neagle, back in modern times again, and introduces in his first star part the famous "Street Singer" Arthur Tracy, singing five new numbers and giving the greatest rendering of "La Donna e Mobile" that has never been heard from the screen.

Based on a story by Laura Whetter, "Limelight" is set against a background of a big London revue, "Celebration." Marjorie Kay, played by Anna Neagle, is a chorus girl and Bob Grant, played by Arthur Tracy, is a street singer who is caused by Marjorie at the last minute to save the show on the opening night. The picture shows his meteoric rise to fame and how it affects the romance between him and Marjorie. Needless to say, all comes right in the end, but the story is developed with its full background of song dance and spectacle. It can be claimed that "Limelight" is a blend of perfect ingredients of entertainment, and among its numbers are the greatest hits of the year. Watch for Geraldo and his Sweet Music and Gaucho Tango Orchestra, the twenty-four London Hippodrome girls, the speciality dancers, Bobbie and Virginia, Tilly Losch, and brilliant short personal appearance by Jack Buchanan. Direction by Herbert Wilcox carries the picture along at a mile-a-minute pace.

"Limelight" the story of the London theatreland at the Regal with Anna Neagle and Arthur Tracy.

"SAN FRANCISCO"

At The Central

In "San Francisco," which commences at the Central from Saturday Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has again hit the bull's-eye with a sensational picture that should prove sure-fire box-office success for several reasons.

It brings together for the first time three of the most popular stars of the screen—Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy.

It produces on the screen some of the most hair-raising, realistic scenes of a great catastrophe ever before filmed.

It was directed by W. S. Van Dyke, who never misses in correctly feeling the pulse of the public to provide for them the expected tempo in all the films he directs.

And it brings again to the screen that lovely voice of Miss MacDonald who covers a wider range of musical numbers than she has ever accomplished before—not only the most difficult operatic arias, but ragtime tunes and even the most beautiful of religious hymns.

"San Francisco" is the story of Blackie Norton, lord of the old Barbary Coast before the San Francisco disaster in 1906. Into his resort wanders a small-town girl with great ambitions to become a singer. Gable, as Blackie, engages the girl to entertain his rowdy customers and from the dance hall she rises to heights as an opera star to thrill the hearts of San Francisco's music lovers. Later she returns to Blackie, who

EARTHWORM TRACTORS

At The Opera

June Travis had to learn to drive a regulation sized tractor while enacting the leading feminine role in Joe E. Brown's latest First National -Picture, "Earthworm Tractors", which is shown this evening at the Opera pitched eight in and learned intricate mechanism in no time at all. During her short lifetime she has come to expect the unusual as a natural course of events.

During the past ten years the young actress has been forced to become a jack of all trades in several professions. Unlike the average person who has had to learn a lot of different things, June has learned them all well. After the new picture had been in production for three weeks at the First National Studio, June could handle a heavy tractor as well as an experienced farmhand.

The explanation is simple. Miss Travis is one of those thorough persons who is determined to make a success out of anything she undertakes. June didn't step into the tractor seat unprepared on the occasion of the first day's shooting. She spent several days previously on the ranch of Arthur Todd, the protographer, finding chief supporting roles. Weird palaces, laboratories, torture chambers stagger the imagination, and "Flash Gordon" is the most sensational spectacle of the century. Packed with action and suspense in every vital moment, each episode in this screen achievement contains situations that have never been attempted before in motion pictures.

New Anglo-Turkish Naval And Military Treaty

(From Our Correspondent.)
CAIRO, (By Air Mail).

The 'Al-Balagh' of Egypt reports that some officers of the naval and military experts will accompany Ismait Pasha, the Prime Minister of Turkey, when he visits London at the end of October this year.

A new naval and military treaty, the paper says, will also be entered into by the Prime Minister, when in London, between Turkey and Great Britain.

The Government of Hedjaz have in consideration a new project for connecting Iraq, Reyaz, Mecca and the other stations in the Oil Fields, with a new link of telephone.

For this purpose, it is reported, the Government have invited some experts in the line to carry on the work of 'phone connection.

PILGRIMS FROM INDIA

An Indian Motor Transport Company has applied to the Government of Iraq, for permission to convey Muslim pilgrims of India and Afghanistan through the City of Najaf-Ul-Ashraf, Bagdad and Medina.

The Director of the Company say that in the event of the Government rejecting their application they will choose another route, via the town of Kuwait (about 60 miles from Basrah and the independent Arabic States) Reyaz and Mecca.

The Italian Government, it was reported, discussed with the Imam of Yemen sometime back to extend the period of the Commercial Agreement and that the Imam has extended temporarily the period up to the end of November, to enable both the Governments to consider the necessity of extension.

It is now officially reported that the period has been extended for one year more.

It might be recalled here that the previous agreement was entered into for full ten years.

The betrothal of the daughter of the Imam of Yemen to the son of the Commander-in-Chief of Yemen, Sayed Abdulla Bin Wazir, is officially announced.

AFGHAN PROPOSAL

It was reported sometime back that the Egyptian Cabinet rejected the Afghan proposal for appointing an embassy in Kabul. The reasons for rejection were, it was also reported, that there was not sufficient trade relations between the two countries inasmuch as Afghanistan was importing books to the value of £12 annually and as regards the question of Egyptian settlers in Afghanistan there is only one Egyptian there who is a teacher.

As a result the Afghan Consul in Cairo was also cancelled and appointed in Hedjaz.

Sayed Mahomed Sadeq Mujaddiedi, the Afghan Consul for Hedjaz, has now arrived in Egypt and had talks with the acting Prime Minister of Egypt.

EMBASSY IN KABUL

Though nothing as to the result of the official conversation was available, the Al-Balagh is able to comment that the talk was mainly based on the necessity of appointing an embassy in Kabul. The Afghan Consul's intention is to convince the Egyptian authorities and change their decision and impress with the authorities there the necessity of such a consulate in Kabul.

INAUGURATION OF NEW AIR ROUTE

The new air route between Cairo and Baghdad has been inaugurated officially by the Directors of the Bank Misr (Egypt).

The passenger traffic is reported to be encouraging.

These aeroplanes between the two places will touch Baghdad, Damascus, Beirout, Cairo and Cyprus.

According to the final statement issued by the Finance Department of the Government of Egypt, the estimated cost of construction of the 3 military ways, according to the new Anglo-Egyptian Treaty, will be £4,250,000.

NATIONAL LOAN BONDS

To meet the new expenditure the authorities are busy preparing to issue new national loan bonds for £5 millions, which will be open to Egyptians only.

Preference, however, will be given to Egyptian officials and servants of the Government.

The reasons for the issue of the new loan bonds are said to be to avoid handling the Reserve Funds of the Government and secondly not to impose fresh taxes in the country.

The latest statement of the Department of Wakf (Religious Charities) of the Government of Egypt states that the total income from the Wakf property of Mecca and Medina for the year 1935 amounted to £3,72,860.

H. M. King Farouq, it was reported, will attend the Coronation of H. M. King Edward in London and after completing his European tour return to Cairo by the end of July next when the period of his minority also ends.

The latest information shows that H. M. the Queen Mother will also accompany her son, the King.

The official discussions for entering into a new commercial agreement are in progress between the Government of the Imam of Yemen and the Government of Iraq. The agreement if entered into will further smoothen the trade relations between the two countries.

It may be mentioned here that Iraq imports from Yemen coffee worth nearly £40,000 every year.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN SYRIA AND IRAQ

The new French Ambassador in Baghdad has arrived in Beirout to convey the results of the discussions with the Government of Iraq regarding a new Commercial agreement between Syria and Iraq.

H. M. King Farouq, accompanied by his private tutor the Rector of the Al-Azher University, is now having an extensive tour all over Egypt.

The civic authorities of Beirout have, in honour of the late Ahmed Shawki Boy, the celebrated Egyptian Poet, named an important road after him.

The Egyptian Ambassador in Madrid has wired to the Egyptian Government requesting them to permit him to transfer the office of the Ambassador with all the Egyptian staff to Marseilles.

The request has been granted and communicated to the Ambassador by wire.

It might be recalled here that very recently the private Secretary of the Ambassador in Madrid received bullet wounds from an unknown person and was removed to the hospital.

EGYPTIAN PARLIAMENT'S APPROVAL

It is reported that the Parliament of Egypt will approve of the new Anglo-Egyptian Treaty at its session in the middle of October next.

It was reported sometime back that M. Fratchi, the chief Italian Engineer of the Egyptian royal palace, has given resignation.

Some other Italians on coming to know of the chance offered their services.

It appears now that the Palace authorities have rejected the offers of the foreigners and appointed an Egyptian Engineer in the place.

New stamps, with the effigy of H. M. King Farouq of Egypt, it is reported, will be issued to the public in Egypt, very shortly.

MOSCOW PURGE SEQUEL

The special correspondent of the French paper 'The People', according to a report in the 'Al-Balagh', says that it was not mainly the crime of plotting against M. Stalin, for which the sixteen Bolshevists were shot dead but it was to perfectly conceal the fact of M. Stalin's illness, which, it is feared, may have very grave developments.

M. Stalin, against whom great opposition is apprehended as a result of the recent incidents, has appointed a huge staff from the Government officials, to carry on vigorously the work of 'sweeping away' the opposition elements.

One of the Bolshevists who managed to escape from Moscow, says the 'Al-Balagh', told the representative of the 'People' that it was not the plot of the dangerous elements in the State that M. Stalin wanted to crush, but to conceal to the world that he is seriously laid up, and terrorise the subversive elements, if any, in Russia.

It is now nearly two months says the paper since M. Stalin went out of his private residence.

Naib Dewan Lectures On Technical Education In Japan

(From Our Correspondent.)
BARODA, (By Mail.)

The Jummadada Physical Culture League and other institutions celebrated the "Ganpati" Festival with great enthusiasm.

Under the presidentship of Mr. B. K. Bhate, the Naibdewan, Mr. Manilal Nanavaty delivering a lecture on technical education in Japan stated that Japan gave an extensive and an intensive type of technical education by keeping both theoretical and practical courses. The people of Japan had become technical minded so much so, he said, that industrial schools were increasing every year and there was no unemployment in this field.

He urged the students of Kalabhavan Technical Institute to imbibe the ideas of simplicity, loyalty, discipline and co-operation of Japan to be successful in life.

Dr. Jyotindra Mehta, the sitting member of the Bombay University Senate, is standing as a candidate on behalf of registered graduates for ensuing elections in June, 1937, as his term expires next year. He is senior professor of Economics in the Baroda College.

The Baroda Mill strike is continuing.

RHEUMATISM MADE HIM A WRECK

Little Better After 3 Months in Bed

A DIFFERENT MAN AFTER 6 MONTHS OF KRUSCHEN

Here is the true story of a man who under-went drastic treatment for rheumatism, and was left weak and ill and little better at the end of it. He regained his health—not by painful, inconvenient methods, but by the simple, easy way of taking Kruschen Salts:—

"The manager of a shop I dealt with was in bed for twelve weeks with rheumatism. When he returned to the shop he looked terribly ill. I naturally asked what treatment he had had. He replied: 'Everything—they baked me, electrified me, and I think, boiled me, and here you see the wreck for yourself.' Then I said: 'Have you tried Kruschen Salts?' He tried it, and in six months he was a different man, and thanked me every time I went into the shop. He said he would never leave off taking it."—(Mrs.) J. L. T.

Rheumatism is commonly caused by deposits of needle-pointed, flint-hard, uric acid crystals, which lodge in the muscles and joints. Kruschen breaks up these deposits of torturing crystals and converts them into a harmless solution, which is promptly removed through the natural channel—the kidneys.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Chemists, Stores and Bazars.

Purpose Of New Trade Pact With Britain

Marwadi Commerce Chamber's President Says, It Should Augment Country's Exports

The Annual General Meeting of the Marwadi Chamber of Commerce Limited, Bombay was held on Sunday last in its office at Kalbadevi Road, with Mr. Lachhmandass Daga in the cair. In moving the adoption of the Annual Report and Accounts of the Chamber for the year 1935-36, Mr. Lachhmandas Daga said:—

CHERISHED DESIRE.

Over 21 years ago when this institution was founded, some of us who took our humble part in its promotion wished that the Chamber should be housed in its own building. While in those early years our efforts did not bring fruit, it is a matter of singular gratification and legitimate pride for me that that deeply-cherished desire has now with the co-operation and support of you all attained its fulfilment. As you all know last year the Chamber purchased two adjoining houses at Kalbadevi Road.

ENFRANCHISE MEMBERS.

I have now to refer to a matter which has caused us all much dissatisfaction and disappointment. During the last two years your Board addressed several representations to the Central and Provincial Governments requesting them to enfranchise the members of the Chamber for the election of representatives from the Commerce Constituency, if its claim for a separate seat for any reason could not be recognised. It is unfortunate that the authorities did not pay any heed o these moderate demands.

Whatever these may be, to refuse to do justice to the members of an old and established institution like our Chamber can scarcely be regarded as a proof of Government's love of justice or farsightedness.

NEW TRADE PACT.

Leaving aside the questions and grievances of the Chamber, I should like to call attention to certain All-India quastions. You are well aware that in the last April session of the Indian Legislative Assembly a resolution was passed urging the termination of the Ottawa Trade Agreement of August 1932.

In pursuance of that resolution and as a result of the country-wide public condemnation of the agreement, the Government of India has already served on the United Kingdom Government six months' notice to terminate the agreement. Preparations are now afoot for negotiating a new agreement in place of the old. On this subject your Board has submitted carefully considered views and suggestions to Government and I do not wish to repeat them here.

RADICAL ALTERATIONS.

I must, however, observe that unless radical alterations both of principle and detail are incorporated in the new agreement serious apprehensions are entertained that the principal purpose of such an agreement would be frustrated. Obviously the only purpose of such a trade agreement can be to increase the volume of the country's foreign trade and particularly to substantially augment the exports of its agricultural and other products.

ADMINISTRATIVE REFORMS.

You will remember gentlemen, that last year Government had appointed an expert Committee of enquiry into the Income Tax law and administration. To that Committee comprehensive memoranda were submitted by commercial bodies all over the country urging numerous important reforms More than six months have since passed by and its report has not yet been published. The mercantile community has suffered so long and so severely that an all round relief from arbitrary and excessive exactions and inconvenient and annoying administrative processes have become overdue. I take this opportunity therefore, to appeal to Government not only to soon publish the report of the Committee but carry out as expeditiously as possible.

NO PANACEA FOR ILLS.

It is easy to enumerate difficulties but what is the remedy, it may be said. My reply is that there can be no panacea for all ills in a complicated situation like India's. But if the nearest approach to it can be conceived, and if a simple and sure expedient which has been tried with success by other countries were to be tried in India, I have no doubt that industries will improve agriculture will become more paying and trade will be rendered more active and profitable and unemployment also will be reduced.

I refer to the country's demand for devalution of the rupee. A substantial devaluation is bound to make for a beneficial rise in general prices. In my opinion, the present moment is most opportune for such action. After a protected struggle the Franc has gone off gold and has joined the managed currency group. If the Government of India decide and act promptly they can at once secure the desired results. Otherwise when the currencies of the leading nations are stabilised any idea of devaluation as the rupee will become out of the question. Will Sir James Grigg catch the opportunity and act?

In the course of his speech seconding the adoption of the Report Mr. Begraj Gupta, the newly elected President of the Chamber said:—

ANXIOUS TIMES AHEAD.

"It is true that world production and trade have recorded a slight advance during the year under review. But it cannot be said with confidence at the same time that the time has come for us all to rejoice in the passing of the great depression that began in 1929. On the other hand I fear that the nature of the slight recovery that is seen and the causes contributing to it are such as instead of giving cause for jubilation are rather indicative of anxious times ahead.

FORESIGHT OF CONGRESS.

In regard to the new legislatures, I have to address a few words to the leaders of the country. The foresight displayed by the Congress in deciding to enter the new legislatures is deserving of congratulations. But the Congress must take one more step in the direction, to enter the legislatures and to fight shy of accepting responsibility even if returned in a majority indicate a policy which we businessmen are unable to understand.

My own opinion is that the force of conditions will, sooner or later become so strong that the Congress will be compelled to accept offices. I have faith in the foresight and wisdom of the responsible Congress leaders and I hope that the Congress will certainly decide in favour of office acceptance. Any way the elections to the provincial legislatures are approaching. It is my considered opinion that the best interests of the country can only be served by returning as large a number of Congressmen to these legislatures as possible. For this reason, on this occasion I earnestly appeal to the members of the Chamber and to the mercantile community generally to cast their votes when the proper time comes in favour of Congress candidates.

Afterwards the Annual Report and Accounts of the Chamber for the year ending 30th June, 1936 were passed unanimously.

Messrs. Bhagwandass Gargieya & Co., of Beawar were appointed auditors for the coming year.

ANTI-FASCIST PLAY ON NATIONAL SCALE

U. S. Government Sponsors Production

WASHINGTON, D.C. (By Mail)

The American Federal Theatre plans to produce a stage version of Mr. Sinclair Lewis's novel "It can't Happen Here" upon a vast scale, with simultaneous productions in 28 American cities.

Some observers here profess to see a political motive behind the plan, which has not yet been formally approved by the Works Progress Administration Headquarters, which controls the Federal Theatre project. There is little doubt that consent will be given however.

Some months ago plans to make a film of the novel, which presents the picture of a Fascist coup d'etat in the United States, were abandoned. Mr. Lewis alleging that Mr Will Hays, "Czar" of Hollywood, feared to antagonise Fascist Governments overseas by permitting the film, although Mr. Hays issued a denial of this. In any case, the film was not put into production and the Federal Theatre's suggestion is the first for its use in dramatic form.

AUTHOR IS ENTHUSIASTIC

It is proposed that Mr. Lewis and a friend should dramatise the novel between them in time for a national production in October of this year, when New York, Boston, Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland, New Orleans and various other cities would all see the play simultaneously.

The production would be in various racial and Language groups, including English, Yiddish, Italian, German, Cuban, and Negro, and the scene of the action would be altered according to need.

For example, in New England the play would be given in the local surroundings, which were the original ones of the novel, but when acted Yiddish the characters and action would be transplanted to a Ghetto, such as that in the "Lower east side" of New York city.

Mr. Lewis himself is enthusiastic about the plan.

Interviewed at this farmhouse in Vermont, he said: "It's about time the theatre went back to the people—it has become a formalised thing, with stage production in only a few cities and indeed almost only in New York City, which is absurd. Plays should appear everywhere, like moving pictures. The WPA can do this service for the people"—Reuter.

A Look Round The World

First Fruits Of Italian Imperialism In Ethiopia

Addis Ababa To Be Exclusive Monopoly Of The White People

ADDIS-ABABA (By Air Mail.)

First fruits of foreign conquest are now being made evident to the native inhabitants of Addis-Ababa who have been asked to quit the Central quarters of the city and shift to the other side of the Akaki river.

It is understood that this has been done with a view to make central Addis-Ababa, an exclusive colony of the "white people" where the original inhabitants will not be permitted to have quarters of their own. Only a choice selection of Abyssinian overlords who helped the Italian government, will be permitted to erect houses side by side with the "white" rulers of the new Italian Empire.

Discontent In Indo-China

SAIGON (By Air Mail.)

Intense discontent against the French administration has, of late made itself manifest in many parts of Indo-China due probably to dire economic conditions. The Government, however, has so far shown no desire to remedy matters but are bent on repressing all kind of anti-governmental activities with the help of the Foreign legion. Many villages have been either burnt down or bombed with their assistance. Any outburst of discontent is branded as rank communism. The educated Indo-Chinese discontented with the conditions prevalent in his country and unable to secure a job for himself inspite of his French university degree is treated as a communist revolutionary as are also the starving peasants of the Vinh province who roam through the country crying for food.

The older type of nationalists are, however, pinning their faith on the Peoples Front Government and hope that efforts will soon be made to solve the urgent problem and remedy the economic conditions.

The younger generation, on the other hand, are out and out for complete independence.

Germans Against War?

"In Germany to-day, there is for the first time since the war a general sense of security. It is a happier Germany.

One man has accomplished this miracle. He is a born leader of men. A magnetic, dynamic personality with a single-minded purpose, a resolute will and a dauntless heart. The old trust him; the young idolise him. I have heard the speeches of prominent Nazi orators freely condemned. But not a word of criticism or of disapproval have I heard of Hitler," writes David Lloyd George in "The Daily Express."

PASSION FOR UNITY.

"Those who imagine that Germany has swung back to its old Imperialist temper cannot have any understanding of the character of the change. The idea of a Germany intimidating Europe with a threat that its irresistible army might march across frontiers forms no part of the new vision.

What Hitler said at Nuremberg is true. The Germans will resist to the death every invader of their own country, but they have no longer the desire themselves to invade any other land.

Three years of feverish preparation have so strengthened the defences of Germany as to make them impenetrable to attack except at a sacrifice of life which would be more appalling than that inflicted in the great war. Germany has constructed strong defensive positions. But it will take her at least 10 years to build up an army strong enough to face the armies of Russia or France on any soil except her own.

FEAR OF RUSSIA

The nation has become unified. Catholic and Protestant, Prussian and Bavarian, employer and workmen, rich and poor, have been consolidated into one people. There is a passion for unity born of dire necessity. The clash of rival passions is not only deprecated, but temporarily suppressed.

I found everywhere a fierce and uncompromising hostility to Russian Bolshevism, coupled with a genuine admiration for the British people with a profound desire for a better and friendlier understanding with them.

The Germans have a dread of the great army which has been built up in Russiia in recent years.

An exceptionally violent anti-German campaign of abuse has revived the suspicion in Germany that the Soviet Government are contemplating mischief against the Fatherland.

Unfortunately, the German leaders set this down to the influence of prominent Jews, and thus the anti-Jewish sentiment is being once more stirred up just as it was fading into torpitude.

We should do wisely not to attach extravagant importance to recent outbursts against Russia. The fact of the matter is, the German Government in its relations with Russia is now in the stage from which we ourselves have only just emerged."

Titulesco On The Move?

BUCHAREST: (By Air Mail).

Reports have poured here in the city among political circles that Titulesco, who is supposed to be lying sick at Cap Martin is really making attempts to form an anti-governmental bloc with the help of the leaders of the opposition, who left Bucharest some time ago 'en route' for Nice.

In the meantime, the shock of sudden dismissal of Titulesco does not seem to have yet subsided. The left wing press are specially indignant at the manner in which Roumania's most capable statesman has been treated by the Government and condemn the re-orientation of the country's foreign policy towards Germany as prejudicial to the interests of the country. It is rumoured that Titulesco was offered the post of Ambassador in London, but he politely refused the offer.

No More Oil, In Twenty Years

WASHINGTON: (By Air Mail).

A warning that the world's oil supplies may be exhausted in less than 20 years, was given here by Sir John Cadman, Chairman of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company at the opening of a world-power conference.

PROPOSED PARSI TECHNICAL HIGH-SCHOOL

Mr. Fakirji E. Bharucha's Views

Mr. Fakirji E. Bharucha in the course of an instructive article on the burning problem of a Parsi Polytechnic Institute, and a Parsi Technical High School, states:—

Government may or may not take up the question of satisfying the conscious demand of a whole country for a reform in our educational system in right earnest as they are said to be busy with the constitutional reforms just now but there is no reason why Parsis should not take up the question. It is almost impossible to create new employment for the unemployed owing to the depressed condition of our trade and industries, and also of the products of our agriculture. There are about 250 millions of agriculturists and their dependents out of our total population of 350 millions in this country. If we could make these 250 millions of agriculturists earn Rs. 10 per annum per head, it would bring 2.500 millions (250 crores) of rupees more into this country than usual, thereby increasing the purchasing power of our people and creating such a large demand for the products of our indigenous industries that unemployment amongst the educated classes would almost vanish. What we are concerned with at present is not a cure for unemployment, but its prevention, and that could only be accomplished by distracting the attention of our boys from purely literary pursuits to vocational ones. This could only be done through a well-organised Polytechnic Institute.

PROPOSED PARSI POLYTECHNIC

It may not be possible to put up a large Polytechnic on cosmopolitan lines without state aid. But it is not beyond the means of the Parsi community to do it. In fact a foundation has been laid for a Parsi Polytechnic in Surat under the name of the Parsi Technical and Industrial Institute. The urgent necessity for such an Institute has been proved by the big rush to join it.

I prepared a scheme of Polytechnic Institute attached to a Technical High School for Parsis which I published and placed before the Parsi community in 1931 This was not meant to vie with those very large Polytechnic institutions of the Western countries, which give the highest technological and engineering training, besides that of a lower grade in many vocations and trades. These are Regent Street Polytechnic and Battersea Polytechnic of London, the Polytechnic of the College of Technology of Manchester or the Charlottenburg Polytechnic of Berlin, etc. The population of Parsis being very small we cannot afford to launch such a polytechnic of a vast magnitude. We do not want to train our boys of mediocre ability and education in ship building, rail way engineering, machinery or motor car manufacturing, chemical engineering, etc. in our Polytechnic at present. We have more than two dozen Parsi charity funds for awarding scholarships to those of our bright students who wish to be trained and qualified in such and other technology and engineering of the highest class and for many years more we must arrange to send our clever boys to foreign countries to receive such training.

AIMS OF PARSI POLYTECHNIC.

What my scheme of the Parsi Polytechnic aims at is to train those of the Parsi boys of mediocre ability and moderate general education who, in the absence of any such institution giving vocational training in theory and practice of the trades of everyday demand, loaf about for the work of typists or clerks, or as private tuition masters. My object is to cater for those Parsi boys who have studied upto matriculation or a little further, and have left their education incomplete for one or other reason (their number is large), and give them vocational training in callings of every day demand and utility such as, laundry, garment dyeing and cleaning, leather manufacture, bakery and confectionery, building construction, soap manufacture, ink manufacture, garment cutting and tailoring, automobile engineering, electroplating, weaving, printing and book-binding, jewellers' and goldsmiths' work, automobile engineering, Diesel engineering, painting and decorating, brush making, electric, gas welding, etc., etc.

It will be seen that the scheme of a Parsi Polytechnic which I have been advocating, and which the Manekjee Sett Polytechnic Institute is intended for, is for a second grade or lower grade institute for the bulk of Parsi boys. The funds of Manekjee Sett Polytechnic Institute which have now swelled to about 18 lakhs of rupees could well afford to launch it. There are from 11,000 to 12,000 Parsi families residing in Bombay and surrounding suburbs, and if survey and census is taken, I think, we could easily find out from 2,000 to 3,000 Parsi youths who have not gone beyond matriculation, passed or failed.

The Parsi community has amply provided for those of its ablest and brightest youths by establishing many charity funds for awarding scholarships, or giving loans for the studies of technology or engineering of the highest class in foreign countries. I think the total capital invested in such funds might amount to more than Rs. 50,00,000.

The Parsi Hunnar Shala is not a Technical Institute. It is a sort of a work-house where unemployed men of any age obtain temporary employment on a living wage and free afternoon meal. It can do no lasting benefit to the community as there are no set curriculums, no examinations held and no certificates or diplomas awarded.

PROPOSED PARSI TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL.

The foundation for industrial and vocational education requires to be laid early in a boy's life. Our matriculates are rather precocious boys. We stuff too much in their brains during their premature life and do not have them do any thing by hands in which they could take a just pride. This results in their becoming mentally atrophied and unsuccessful in their after life.

This opens up the question of establishing a Technical High School for Parsi boys, in which a bias or love for vocational training and hand-work can be inculcated from the fourth standard of a high school curriculum. For this it is necessary to put up a specially organized and well-equipped high school with workshops attached to it. Boys who have gone through and completed the first three standards successfully, as laid down in the university curriculum, may be admitted in Technical High School to complete their education and training in the remaining four or five standards in English and mathematics with manual training drawing and joinery, science and the use of tools that obtain in various vocations in the workshops of the School.

The Technical High School is not to be a trade school and should not aim at giving training in any particular vocations. Its aims and function should be strictly restricted to give sound training in English, mathematics, science, engineering or scale drawing and use of tools (both hand and machine) and prepare the boys for further practical and scientific training in any vocations, that he may choose to follow subsequently, either in the Parsi Polytechnic or in other technical institutes, industrial factories, mills, power houses or engineering works.

Girl Spurns Lover And Gets Stabbed

Alleged Crime Of Boarder Whose Proposal She Rejected

Mother Also Receives Knife Blow In Attempt To Save Daughter

BOMBAY, Friday.

A boarder and lodger, who was alleged to have been pestering the parents of a girl, was arrested last night by the Kingsway Police on a charge of causing grievous hurt to the girl who refused his overtures.

It was stated that Shanker Ganpat returned to the home last night in a drunken state and was alleged to have made immoral overtures to the girl. On refusal, he whipped out a pen-knife and was alleged to have stabbed her all over her body, inflicting several wounds. The mother of the girl, who intervened, was stated to have been stabbed too.

Both mother and daughter were removed to the K. E. M. Hospital. The girl is stated to be in a precarious condition.

It was further stated that the parents of the girl were at first willing to consider the question of marriage, but the girl refused the offer because, she said, the accused was a drunkard and of a jealous nature.

The accused was remanded into police custody till October 16th when he was produced before the Dadar Court this morning.

B. P. C. C. PLAN TO POPULARISE HINDUSTANI

Elocution Competition To Be Held On Sunday

The General Secretaries of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee write:

Mass education of Hindustani as a national language has been one of the important activities of Mahatma Gandhi. It is proposed that during the "Gandhi Jayanti" celebrations something should be done to demonstrate this great national activity.

The informal conference of Congress workers that met at the Congress House on Tuesday last decided that there should be an elocution competition in Hindi and a gold medal should be awarded to the best candidate taking part in this competition. This competition will be held on Sunday, October 11, at 5 p.m. (S. T.) at the Peoples' Jinnah Hall.

The following rules have been made to regulate the competition:

The candidate must fill in the entry form (available at the Congress House during office hours) and pay a fee of Re. 1.

The candidate whose mother tongue is other than Hindi can take part in this competition.

The subject of the elocution will be "Mahatmaji's Life."

Each candidate will get 10 minutes for the speech.

The candidate will not be allowed to use any written notes at the time of speaking.

(6) If any auditor's report is made which does not comply with the requirements of this section, every auditor who is knowingly and wilfully a party to the default shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(The words in quotation marks and the words omitted indicate the amendments proposed by me).

It will be admitted on all hands that the necessity and urgency of tightening up the Law governing joint stock companies and freeing it from the fundamental defects to which attention has been called in this and the previous articles, by amending Section 131 (2) and Section 145 as proposed by me, for granting the shareholders and the creditors of such companies the much needed protection in that behalf, can neither be avoided nor postponed.

I WAS REALLY AMAZED AT THE RESULTS

"I always knew Quaker Oats was a beneficial food but I was truly surprised at the great good it did for my boys."

SAYS A. M. BAHDURJI, PRINCIPAL, ANJUMAN-I-ISLAM HIGH SCHOOL, BOMBAY

School Test Shows Remarkable Value of Quaker Oats

A recent feeding test conducted at the Anjuman-I-Islam High School, Hornby Road, Bombay, proved conclusively the great nourishing value of Quaker Oats.

Thirty-two boys between the ages of 12 and 18 were selected and given a dish of Quaker Oats porridge daily after the morning session, and a Quaker Oats drink following the afternoon lessons. The duration of the test was 30 days. The boys were weighed at the beginning and at the conclusion. The test was carried out under the supervision of the school medical officer and the boys weighed in his presence. The final check showed a total gain for all boys of 122 lbs., or an average of 3 lbs. 13 ozs. per boy. Some boys gained as much as 8 to 9 pounds while not a single student failed to gain something.

Photograph shows part of the group of 32 boys who, during this Quaker Oats feeding test, gained an average of 3 lbs. 13 ozs. Individual gains up to 9 lbs. were recorded. The pupils showed improvement in class work, too, as the test progressed.

Quaker Oats is indeed a wonderful health food. Rich in Vitamin B and many other properties of nature it offsets nervousness, curbs constipation, builds bone and muscle; relieves fatigue, nourishes and invigorates. Make Quaker Oats a part of the daily diet of every member of your family. All will benefit by its goodness. Now available in Quick Cooking form. Cooks in 2½ minutes from the time the water boils. Saves time and fuel.

Syed Nezamuddin, age 14 years, gained 9 lbs. Mohomed Harun, age 11 years, gained 6 1-2 lbs.

BOYS ALL ENTHUSIASTIC

At the end of the test, Mr. Haji Hasham Haji Ibrahim, Secretary of the School, said: "The boys are all very fit since the test and have shown great enthusiasm in their sports and great deliberation in their studies. They greatly enjoyed their Quaker Oats, and it was common to see them asking for second helpings."

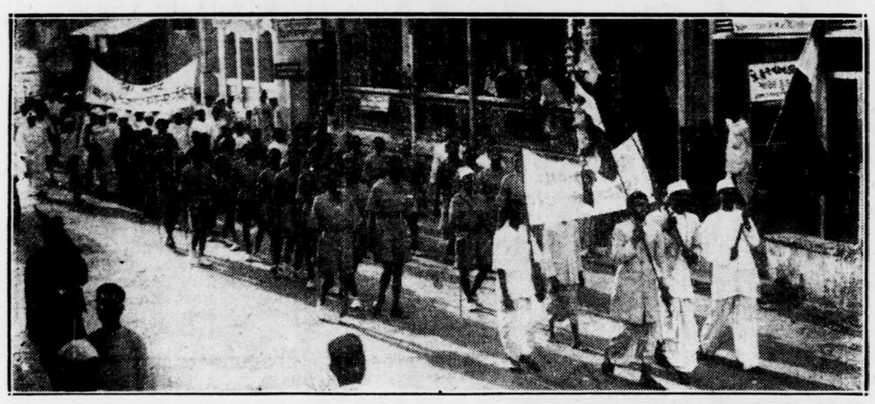
Gandhi Jayanti Celebrations In Bombay



Prabhat Pheris celebrating Gandhi Jayanti paraded through the streets of the City.

Girls of the Lokamanya Kanya Shala celebrated the Jayanti under the presidency of Mrs. Naidu.

"Brought Light Of Freedom To Indians"

Mrs. Naidu's Tribute To Gandhiji

BOMBAY, Friday.

The Gandhi Jayanti celebrations in the city commenced this morning with the taking out of Prabhat Pheries in different wards of the city.

The main Prabhat Pheri started at 6-45 a.m. from Dhobi Talao, and was led by Messrs Nagindas Master and S. K. Patil and the members of the Jain Volunteer Corps formed the procession. The Prabhat Pheri wended its way through Kalbadevi Road, Bhuleshwar, C. P. Tank, Vithalbhai Patel Road and reached the Congress House in time for the Flag Salutation ceremony at 8 a.m.

After the Tri-colour flag was saluted by the Volunteers of the Bombay National Guards; the Jain Volunteer Corps and others, Mrs. Naidu, who unfurled the flag delivered a speech.

Big Day For India

She said that October 2 was a big day for the whole of India, nay it was a big day for the whole world as it happened to be the birthday of Mahatma Gandhi, "the greatest man living on earth." He it was who had brought light of freedom to Indians.

Each nation, she said, had produced great men in one walk of life or another, they had been respected and looked upon with awe, but there was none so great and recognised as such by the whole world as Mahatma Gandhi. He had changed the whole outlook of people in the world. He had made "Slave India" wake up and open her eyes. He had made the dead people breathe. It was he who had given a flag to Indians and by respecting the flag. Indians would be respecting that great man.

Mahatma's Messages

Mahatma Gandhi's message to the people of India should be ever remembered. His first message was that of Khadi. It meant food for the starving millions of India. Then he wanted youngmen and women to strive for the removal of untouchability. His another message was that every Indian should gird up his loin and strive to achieve Hindu-Muslim unity.

The last and the most important message to the world, which made the world look aghast at the great man, was the message of non-violence. It was the non-violence of the brave and courageous and not of the cowards.

All the leaders and Congressmen present then shifted themselves to the D Ward Congress Committee office where the portrait of the late Mr. Ghurye was unveiled.

At Ahmedabad

Celebrations in connection with the birthday of Mahatma Gandhi commenced to-day at Ahmedabad with the hoisting of the National Flag by Mr. Kripalani, general secretary of the Congress. —A. P.

Mrs. Naidu Unveils Portrait Of Popular Girgaum Congress Worker

BOMBAY Friday.

Mrs. Sarojini Naidu unveiled today the portrait of the late Mr. Keshav Ghurye, who died four years ago at the Visapur Central Prison, while undergoing imprisonment for an offence during the Civil Disobedience movement. The portrait was unveiled at the office of the Girgaum District Congress Committee.

Among those present were Messrs. K. F. Nariman Nagindas Master S. K. Patil; D. D. Sathve; P. R. Lele and others.

Mr. P. R. Lele, President of the Girgaum District Congress Committee, in requesting Mrs. Naidu to unveil the portrait, said that Ghurye could be stated to be one of the unknown soldiers, who worked hard during the Civil Disobedience movement. He was a member of the District Committee and worked with great enthusiasm.

Mr. S. K. Patil, describing the last days of Mr. Ghurye in the Visapur Jail said that he died of typhoid. Visapur Jail was well known for the bad water supplied. Ghurye had endeared himself to everyone in jail. The Jail authorities permitted as many political prisoners as possible to accompany the funeral procession.

Mrs. Naidu then unveiled the portrait and Mr. S. V. Sovani garlanded it.

Unknown Soldier.

Mrs. Naidu then paid a tribute to the memory of Ghurye and said that when great leaders like Motilal Nehru and Deshbandhu Das died the whole nation strove to perpetuate their memory in one way or the other. But the cases of people like Ghurye were the same as that of the unknown soldiers who fell on the battle field. She hoped that when the next fight came more people like Ghurye would rally round the Congress flag.

At the conclusion Mr. Lele garlanded Mrs. Naidu.

It has been decided to hold a Local Bodies' Conference at Nagpur during this month to protest against the C. P. Municipalities Amendment Bill No. 38 of 1936. It has been suggested that Mr. Jamnalal Mehta should be invited to preside.

"SAN FRANSISCO"

does not realize the depth of his love for the girl until he finds it in the destruction and suffering of the San Francisco disaster.

This new picture brings back the Clark Gable of old, rugged, two-fisted and believing in nothing but his own power and his fascination over women.

Too, it brings to the screen a new Jeanette MacDonald with a voice that seems more beautiful, if that is possible, and revealing her as a very delightful comedienne, particularly when she gives her version of hip-swaying torch singing in Blackie's Paradise Cafe.

The supporting cast is an admirable one—Jack Holt carrying off the "heavy" honors and providing most of the worry for Blackie Norton in his conquest for Mary; Ted Healy, with a new batch of stooges; Shirley Ross, in the biggest opportunity of her young screen career; reliable Jessie Ralph in the colourful characterization of Maizie Burley, Holt's mother; Harold Huber, as one of Gable's henchmen; Margaret Irving, as Della; Al Shean, as Miss MacDonald's music teacher; Roger Imhoff, and a host of others.

The picture was produced by Bernard Hyman and John Emerson.

Earthworm Tractors

out how the wheels go around in the tractor world.

Very few young ladies in a like position would have done this, but he said before, June is a very determined young lady.

The actress developed her thoroughness in a Chicago preparatory school. Here she shone in class athletic activities for the simple reason that she spent after school hours in strenuous practice.

To-day, in Hollywood, she is one of the foremost Badminton players. June excels in this popular film colony sport because she trained herself for it—trained, in fact, with the Pacific Coast champion. It's her way of doing things.

To cite some of the young lady's accomplishments which are a little removed from the feminine line of activities; she can fly and operate a glider; run a printing press; navigate a pretty good-sied yacht; and mix and pour cement. She learned this last accomplishment while helping a friend to build a swimming pool.

June became so enthusiastic about tractor operations during the filming of the picture that she made the studio property department a cash offer for one of the machines used in the film. She then challenged Joe E. Brown to a race down Hollywood Boulevard, an event that astonished the most blase members of the film colony. June won the race by a nose, or rather by a hood.

Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd.

The Extraordinary General Meeting of the above company will be held on 12th October when Messrs. Bird & Co. Managing Agents will disclose all terms and the provisional agreement for the amalgamation of the Bengal Iron Co., Ltd with the above company for the consideration of members. The Agents in the course of the statement issued to the shareholders state that for some considerable time past the Directors have been considering the question of expansion into the manufacture of steel as the obvious and natural outlet for the bulk of the company's production of pig iron. as it has been apparent that the Company could not rely indefinitely on substantially the whole of its output being taken by the Japanese and other foreign markets. The merger agreement with the Bengal Iron Co., Ltd., was a very excellent arrangement but it turned out to be a very heavy burden and proved to be a most serious obstacle to the company's further progress as a result of protracted ntgotiations, a scheme has been prepared, subject to the approval of the shareholders which will result in the cancellation of the Merger Agreement and will enable the Company to realise its original ambition of an extension into steel, thereby assuring the disposal of a large proportion of its output.

It is also realised that there is room for another large steel producing plant in this country and the time has come to take up the question of extension. In considering this question of extension into steel the past few years, the Directors of the Indian Iron have always felt that, if possible any extension by the company should be in conjunction with Messrs. Tata Iron & Steel Co., Ltd.

FLED FROM RUSSIA "TO SEE LIFE"

Youth Sent To Work-House On Vagrancy Charge

BOMBAY Friday.

Vladimer Vyeir (22) a Russian who stated he had fled from Russia to see life, was placed before the Presidency Magistrate, Third Court to-day to answer a charge under the Vagrancy Act.

Vladimer produced Rs. 2 from his pocket and asked the Court to give him his liberty. He urged that he would be able to maintain himself for a month on this amount.

Sergeant Neale who produced the accused, stated that he had offered to find work for him but it appeared that "he was too proud to work" and turned down the offer.

Vladimer was noticed wandering around the town and when questioned failed to give any satisfactory explanation for his conduct.

CAME VIA KHYBER PASS

Vladimer told the Court that he left Russia two years after having served three years' imprisonment.

He was anxious to see the outside world and therefore trekked across the Khyber Pass down into Hindustan. He asked the Court not to send him to the Work-House as he desired to find some pleasant work.

MORE COMFORTABLE THERE

The Magistrate observed that he would be more comfortable in the Work-House than on the streets and that in the evenings he could look for work.

Vladimer was finally ordered to be sent to work although he protested that evenings were hardly the time to go in search of work, for it was generally the worktime for robbers.

NEW PHOTO SOCIETY

A Photographic Society has been inaugurated in Bombay under the auspices of a world-wide organisation—"The Kodak Fellowship." The name of this Club is "Kodak Fellowship Club (Bombay)", and its aims and objects are to foster the spirit of fellowship amongst amateurs, and thus help them to get and give more pleasure from photography as a hobby.

All applications for membership have to be accompanied by an admission fee of Rs. 2, and addressed to—The Honorary Secretary, Kodak Fellowship Club (Bombay), 1st Floor, "The Corner", Nepean Sea Road. The monthly fee is Re. 1 and the only qualification for membership of this Club is membership of the Kodak Fellowship—to secure admission to which all you have to do is to send a remittance of 12 annas to Kodak Ltd., Kodak House, Hornby Road, Bombay, and say whether you would prefer a brooch or button badge.

There is a general belief that a Camera Club is necessarily an organization of advanced workers who meet to discuss subjects which are too far advanced for the novice, and that the latter has no place in such a club, but on the contrary novices will be welcomed to the K.F. Club and put at their ease, and very speedily they will find that there are not only many other members who are novices, but also a number of more advanced members who can give the beginners just the advice and information they want, and will never resent being asked.

Apart from this attitude of membership, this association will have a good deal more to offer. The members will meet on the first Sunday of every month at the Club's premises, and the programme of the day will be announced beforehand. Moreover joint excursions arranged by the Club (picnics to beauty spots, visits to local industries, etc.) will be specially meant for beginners, and the advanced workers who will join the rambles will impart to the less experienced members by practical work the methods and procedure that should be followed for avoiding "pictures which are not so good as they should be." Thus the novice will have the opportunity of doing practical work and photographing a wide variety of subjects in the open, under the eye of more advanced members, who will help him (or her) in the choice of subject, exposures, and the variety of other matters that go to make good photographs.

Thus, in addition to its membership not being restricted to advanced workers, its international status will enable its members to take part in the activities, and to enjoy the facilities, of similar camera clubs in any other part of the world, while they are there.

As mentioned above, membership of the world-wide Kodak Fellowship, and consequently of the local K. F. Club here, is open to all those keenly interested in photography, Irrespective of the make of camera or equipment.

Good Trade Buying In N. Y. Cotton

Operators Await Crop Estimates

HEDGE SELLING AND REALISING

Bombay, Oct. 2.

On Thursday the New York cotton futures market opened steady and advanced on higher Liverpool cables. There was continued active demand from textile interests, good spot demand and higher spot basis. Prices later reacted on increased hedge selling and realising. Trade demand was quiet substantial. Otherwise buying was less active. The market appeared to anticipate increased hedging with clearing weather in the South. The market finally rallied on heavy trade buying and covering with the session closing very steady. Last minute buying operations by trade saved the market from a fall as the sentiment was somewhat depressed with buyers awaiting private estimates.

The market opened at a rise of 6 points with March 12.18 and a further rise of 3 points was reached with March 12.21. This was the highest level for the day and later prices declined 14 points from the highest level on increased hedge selling and realising. March was quoted 12.07 which was the lowest level but trade buying again improved prices closed at a rise of one to three points. Spot cotton prices advanced one point at 12.64c. per lb.

The New Orleans cotton futures market was quiet but steady and closed at a decline of one to two points. Spot cotton was unchanged at 12.25 c. per lb.

The Liverpool cotton futures market opened at a rise of 2 points with March 6.68. The market was steady. There was trade and outside buying on bullish crop and textile reports which absorbed hedging of outside growths. Later there was further trade and speculative buying which met hedging and straddle selling. The market closed at a rise of 5 to 4 points with Middling American spot cotton 9 points up at 7.05d. per lb.

East Indian cotton futures advanced 4 points with October 5.54. Egyptian market was strong with an active demand. Sakels advanced 20 to 14 points and Uppers advanced 9 to 10 points.

There was considerable buying in Alexandria market which resulted in a sharp rise. Sakels advanced 45 to 42 points while Ashmouni futures were 22 to 27 points up.

LONDON SILVER MARKET

London, Sept 30

"Messrs. Samuel Montagu and Co. state that prices advanced sharply influenced by the Dollar following the French franc devaluation but early rises rather exceeded Bombay and New York parties resulting in a small reaction. The situation caused some speculative buying but profit-taking appeared at higher rates. The Indian Bazars bought and sold while China sold on a small scale. The outlook is somewhat uncertain ending the adjustment of exchanges but the market is likely at present to be governed by the Dollar Exchange." Reuter.

Better Enquiry For Burma Shares

Market Dull And Featureless

BOMBAY, October 2.

The local share bazar was dull and featureless to-day and prices fluctuated within a narrow range.

There was a marked absence of any new business and operators are holding aloof awaiting European political developments.

There was slightly better enquiry for Bombay Burma shares in hopes of better dividend. Tata Steel Deferreds fluctuated within a narrow range. Cotton and cement shares also moved within a narrow range.

In view of recent monetary changes in Europe it is believed that the present policy of cheap money will be carried on interest Yield is likely to remain on a low level.

LONDON, Oct. 2.

The reopening of the Paris Bourse was without marked reaction here. NUREMBERG CONGRESS AND AFTER course of stressing the alliance with France.

In South-Eastern Europe, the Nuremberg Congress has meant closer attention to the strengthening of the line of the Little Entente alliance. French diplomacy has scored a triumph in gaining Warsaw to a favourable orientation to Paris and getting a move in the direction of improvement of Polish-Czechoslovakian relations. Thus it is not surprising that the echo to Nuremberg has not brought much elation to Berlin. Linked with these there are new speculations on lines of German foreign policy, in which connection there are also some references to German attention to Brazil which is held as awakening the concern of the United States, and a fresh interest in the internal situation in Germany, which despite certain arrestive external manifestations remains one of much strain and tension.

BOMBAY GREETS MAHATMA ON BIRTHDAY

calculating in its support to any national movement, rose to the occasion when Mahatma Gandhi started the last campaign. He looked to Bombay with prophetic knowledge and Bombay proved that it was a living city, burning with patriotism, ready to serve and sacrifice everything for the sake of the country.

MISSION STILL UNFULFILLED.

Mr. K. F. Nariman said that that Gandhiji's birth-day was celebrated all over the country and was considered as significant as, for instance the Lenin Day in Russia or Dr. Sun-Yat-Sen Day in China. It had indeed greater significance for Indians. For the mission of Mahatmaji was yet to be fulfilled by the nation. The birth-day of a prince or a millionaire might be a day of gala and festivity. But Gandhiji's birth-day, a far greater occasion than that of a prince's birth-day, was significantly devoid of any such festivities. This was an occasion to propagate the gospel of the Mahatma and educate the people who might be still ignorant of the teachings and message of Gandhiji.

Gandhiji's programme consisted of completion of four tasks, namely, the propagation of Khadi, the uplift of the Harijans, the attainment of Hindu-Muslim Unity and rural uplift. It was the duty of every one to carry out this programme. His greatest mission was obtaining complete independence for India through methods which earned for him world recognition. 15 years ago, he put forward his methods and his programme, but many thougnt that like a small bubble his programme would burst and disappear.

WORLD FOLLOWS HIS LEAD

But to-day, even the League of Nations found that Gandhiji's gospel of non-violence and non-co-operation were the correct methods. Blockades, boycott, sanctions, collective security were all measures which were different forms essentially of non-co-operation with the aggressor who represented an unjust cause. 15 years after Gandhiji explained his technique, these nations at last realised the efficacy of his methods in the interest of Peace.

There were many, continued Mr. Nariman, who questioned the value of the campaign launched by Mahatma Gandhi. Did they not find the wonderful change and a new awakening among the millions of people in this country ever since Mahatma Gandhi took a prominent part in the politics of this country. 15 years ago, the poor villagers were under the impression that their salvation lay in the white man with the hat. To-day, however, they understood what the message of Swaraj meant and how it would benefit them. The Indians should take a pledge to carry on the work of Mahatma Gandhi until they achieved their object.

SOURCE OF HIS POWER

Mr. K. P. Khadilker said that the principal of truth and non-violence struck root in the hearts of the Indians and therein lay the great power of Mahatma Gandhi who had millions of followers in this country. Indians were determined to make any sacrifice for the sake of their country Gandhiji's influence in this country was unique. Unlike in the West where the power of individuals depended on their influence over the armed forces he conquered the hearts of people.

The change in the outlook of Indians, thought about by Mahatma Gandhi was remarkable. It was a new vision he brought to the people. For instance, a few years ago, no one dreamt in Egypt that the Egyptians would have their ambitions at last realised so soon. Freedom walked into the camp of the Egyptians and if Indians strove with equal courage and confidence in their leader, they too would be free sooner than might be expected.

HE WON MILLIONS' HEART

The wrangle for power that went on in the West was based on the brute force of nations. In Spain at present, the people were cutting the throats of their neighbours and their own countrymen driven by lust for power. But Mahatma Gandhi showed a different way.

The conquest of the millions of hearts was based, not on military force, but on the eternal values of Truth and Love. And Gandhiji conquered the hearts of the millions by these two forces.

Mr. Khadilker referred to the ensuing session of the Congress at Faizpur and said that such a move was indicative of the fact that the message of Mahatma Gandhi reached the remote villages where the villagers understood the value of his teachings. Through his love for the villagers he started the rural uplift scheme to which the Government of India reacted as if by a touch of the magic wand. These sufficiently proved how great his influence among the people was and how sincere he was in his concern for the masses of this country. When a person like Mahatma Gandhi adopted these great principles, it was no wonder that millions of people were drawn around him, and if the politicians and the statesmen of the West were able to understand and appreciate the genius of Mahatma's policy, Europe might yet be saved from the disaster facing her.

HE GAVE RESPECT FOR INDIA

Mr. S. A. Brelvi said that it was with great pleasure that they conveyed their greetings to Mahatma Gandhi and their pleasure was the greater because, Mahatmaji had recovered from his illness only recently. They earnestly wished him a long and happy life which he had dedicated to the cause of Swaraj and hoped that they would attain Swaraj during his lifetime.

Whatever political awakening there had been in India during the last twenty years among her people, whatever prestige and respect that India and Indians had been enjoying in foreign lands in recent times, was all due to the Mahatma.

The awakening in India had no parallel anywhere else, not even in Russia, where a great revolution had taken place. Through that revolution Russia progressed in 10 years as much as she would have progressed in a century. Russia showed that it was possible for a country to establish Socialism. The influence of Russian revolution was being felt and would continue to be felt in every country. But the revolution in India was much more important and would do greater good to humanity. Hitherto it was a universally accepted belief that no country could attain freedom without violence. Mahatma Gandhi had shown the impossible to be possible. Though they had not won freedom, India had covered the march of more than a century in fifteen years. The non-violent movement of Gandhiji was the greatest movement of their time and by initiating it Gandhiji had not only served India, but also served the world and that was the reason why he was acclaimed to be the greatest of living men. If Indians carried on their fight non-violently their success in the end would be, undoubtedly, for the good of India and for the benefit of the world.

SYMBOL OF LIBERTY.

Mr. K. M. Munshi said that there were many national leaders, but Mahatmaji occupied a place in the hearts of the people, which was occupied by none else. The secret of Mahatma's greatness lay in that he at a time, when the fight for Swaraj started and the difficulties were many, appeared on the political scene as a symbol and personification of the national aspirations of freedom and liberty. And even to-day he had the ability and the power to carve the destiny of the nation.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas said that to understand the philosophy of Mahatma Gandhi one should also adopt the standards of life, which Mahatmaji had set for himself and observed in practice. He did not care much whether his efforts were accompanied by success or failure, but discharged his duty with a thoroughness and detachment characteristic of all great souls. He recalled how Mrs. Besant had compared Gandhiji to Christ. Except Buddha no one else other than Mahatma Gandhi inspired the hearts of crores of people with the noble principles of love and humanity.

After the "Vande Mataram" was sung, the meeting terminated.

Mrs. Sarojini Naidu then declared the museum of Khadi cloth and hand-made products open.

GANDHI JAYANTI IN SUBURBS

Sheth Jamnalalji's Address

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

VILE PARLE, Friday.

The Suburban District celebrated Mahatma's birthday by a common one-time prayer at 8 a.m. and Santa Cruz, Malad, Mulund, Ghatkoper all prayed for the long life of this great man, while in Vile Parle Sheth Jamnalal Bajaj who has the privilege of being his closest admirer addressed a meeting. He felt doubtful whether he would be able to do his duty full and well, but exhorted his audience to pay him due homage which could only be done by putting into practice his preaching.

"Those who have the honour of being nearer him know full well how much he feels for the redemption of his motherland. He has toured and addressed the entire country and millions of his countrymen. He decided to live in the villages for the uplift of the village crafts. He has totally identified himself with the masses and teaches us by his own illustrious example what we should do. May we have that courage to follow him."

ABOLISH RENT FARMERS

New Slogan For U. P. Congressmen

(From Our Correspondent.)

ALLAHABAD, Oct. 2.

The Agricultural Sub-Committee of the U. P. Congress Committee met at Anand Bhawan Pandit Jawaharlal, Messrs Venkteshnarain Tewari and Rafi Ahmed Kidwai were present. The committee adopted the draft report. The report is still being kept secret. It is, however, understood that the Committee came to the conclusion that while the population in villages increased in the U.P., the area of land under cultivation has actually decreased. Questioned a prominent member of the Committee said that the remedies they had suggested were of two kinds, one fundamental and the other merely reformative. Apart from minor reforms in land tenure and rent and revenue assessment, the Committee is said to have recommended the abolition of "rent farmers" in India. This recommendation of the Committee appears to find a happy 'via media' between the wholesale abolition of the Zamandars and the retention of big zamindars. "We are against monopoly of rent farmers and want its abolition" declared a member of the committee. It thus appears the U. P. congressmen are going to raise a new slogan. The Committee is also reported to have recommended compulsory physical training for villagers.

Who Makes A Fetish Of The Charkha?

A REPLY TO CRITIC

Replying to the several suggestions put forward from time to time to relieve the poverty of the Indian Ryots such as paultry farming, dairy products and improvements in agriculture Acharya-Kripalaniji writes:—

"No schemes for the removal of Indian poverty would be too many. The advocate of the Charkha were not born with a faith in the charkha. Rather the other way about. Most of the organisers are modern University people, some in Bengal have to their credit the organising of the industry on modern western lines. All their educative training and self-interest were against the charkha. They have taken to it being convinced by the hard cruel facts of Indian village life. They have had to undergo not a few personal inconvenience and they had to put a considerable amount of sacrifice before they could organise the charkha. Surely if they are shown even the theoretical possibilities of the success of any other scheme that promises to pit more in the coffers of the peasant than the charkha, they are not the people to hesitate. But the best plan for the advocates of the other schemes would be to live upto their faith and by working their schemes give a practical demonstrations of the respective merit of all or any of them. It will then be time for them to invite the Khaddarites who cannot be blamed if they work out the only scheme they believe in and which has given them some tangible results."

TASK BEFORE STUDENTS

Dr. Sumant Mehta's Appeal

Dr. Sumant Mehta, President, The Bombay Students' Conference has issued the following appeal:—

The world is in travail. Out of the terrible misery, the violent confliction, the contradictions, the pain, the bitterness and storm of clashing ideals, there is slowly emerging a new society calculated to liberate the human existence from the crushing weight of social injustice, class divisions and economic inequality. The living youths of every land stand in the vanguard of these forces preparing the way for this new society and civilisation. It is their proud privilege to the architects of this 'House Beautiful'. The youths of India have greater responsibilities and therefore greater opportunities than their compeers in other countries. The freedom of the down trodden masses of India lies at the heart of the problem of bringing in the new civilisation. The future of human progress, therefore, is to a very great extent dependent upon the ardour selfless devotion, heroism organisation of the Indian youth.

MUST ORGANISE

Students form a distinct group within the youths of a country. Therefore besides the vast responsibilities developing upon them as a part of the Youths, they have a students identical interests and obligations. The exercise of their fundamental rights and the scrupulous performance of their obligations are necessary for the fulfilment of the true ends of education. Hence the supreme necessity of Student Organisations. The reactionary social forces controlling the community and the educational institutions, the thoroughly unsatisfactory character of the education imparted, atmosphere of stifled civil liberties prevailing in educational institutions and outside, the appalling unemployment of the educated and the gross illiteracy in the land make organisations of students more imperative here than elsewhere.

Student organisations have not yet achieved the required strength and vigour in this country and especially in Bombay. The Bombay Students' Conference held in the first week of August has been a step in the right direction.

The Thesis and the Resolutions adopted at the Conference, mark a bold deciation from the customary attitude of students and others towards education. The Committee that was appointed by the Conference is to-day engaged in carrying out the various decisions of the Conference, which include the organisation of proper Students' Unions in all parts of the Presidency, the convening of a Presidency Students' Conference in December 1936, the drafting of a Constitution for a Presidency Students' Organisation, the starting of a Students' Paper the setting up of a Committee of educationists for drafting a democratic constitution for the University, etc. etc. The Committee is representative of all the Colleges in Bombay, and it deserves full co-operation and encouragement in the performance of its important duties.

The successful completion of the task that lies before the Committee requires a minimum amount of Rs. 1.500/-. I request everyone who has the interests of the country and therefore of the Students community at heart to contribute his or her quota towards the funds of the Committee.

PARULEKAR'S APPEAL AGAINST REFUSAL OF BAIL

Police Action Simply Meant To Restrain Accused, Argues Dr. Ambedkar

(From A Correspondent.)
THANA, Friday.

"If the police have real and definite evidence, it must be more or less conclusive. But the evidence is absolutely worthless, unreliable, an after-thought, and simply meant to restrain Mr. Parulekar." Thus argued Dr. B. R. Ambedkar before the Sessions Judge, Thana, on Friday in the appeal preferred by Mr. S. V. Parulekar, Member of the Servants of India Society, against the order of the Resident Magistrate, Kalyan, refusing to enlarge him on bail.

It will be remembered that Mr. Parulekar was arrested on 25th September at Kalyan on charges under sections 323, 326, 148, 34 all read with 109 I.P.C.

NOT APPLICABLE.

Dr. Ambedkar contended that Section 109 was not at all applicable in this case, inasmuch as the act alleged to have been committed by the other six accused in the case has not been shown to be abetted by Mr. Parulekar.

"The essential ingredient of the section is that the act committed must be the same as the one abetted. The prosecution allege that long before the date of the alleged offence, namely, 10th September, Mr. Parulekar had instigated the strikers to violence. But this is vague and does not support the specific charges of grievous hurt, etc., included under Section 326. No accused is responsible for the commission of an act, when his instigation is for quite a different act. Bearing in mind that the abettor is liable to the same punishment as the offender, it is incumbent on the prosecution to prove that the actual offence itself was abetted by Mr. Parulekar. But this they have not done and hence Section 109 is inapplicable.

Section 326 applies only to a person who does the act himself. Dr. Ambedkar, therefore, submitted that the linking of the two sections 109 and 326 is unwarranted.

VIOLATION NOT PROVED.

Further, Section 497 provides that a magistrate may refuse bail if he has reasonable grounds to believe that the accused may have committed the alleged offence. Submitting that there were no such grounds, Dr. Ambedkar pointed out that Mr. Parulekar was not present at the place of the assault on 10th September and that he was banned entry into Ambernath and a radius of 3 miles around it by an order issued by the sub-divisional magistrate of Kalyan on 29th August.

The prosecution had not proved that Mr. Parulekar had violated this order and hence it was clear that he could not have been associated with the alleged offence in any way.

"GOT-UP STORY."

Dr. Ambedkar declared that he had no hesitation in saying that the prosecution story was got-up. They are not definite as to when the instigation to violence was made. Once they say that it occurred before 29th August when the above-mentioned prohibitory order was made, and then they submit that it was a secret meeting a night or two previous to 10th September on which day the act was committed. This showed that the police evidence was worthless and the whole case was a got-up story meant only to put restraints on Mr. Parulekar. The alleged offence was committed on 10th September, and if Mr. Parulekar was really guilty, he should have been arrested then and there along with the other accused. But in fact, the police waited for two weeks, did not arrest him even on the 22nd September when he was present in the Resident Magistrate's Court and took him in custody only on the 25th.

Further what exactly was the instigation? Read in content, the passages objected to might prove to be only an advice.

Referring to the allegation that the accused assaulted the victim with heavy sticks Dr. Ambedkar said that if that was the kind of attack, the victim should have been reduced to dust and powder whereas all he suffered from was a fracture in the nasal bone, dislocation of tooth and other injuries.

BAIL TESTS.

Dr. Ambedkar next argued that the Sessions Court had wider powers under Section 498. The two tests applied in deciding the grant of bail were whether the accused would present himself in court to stand his trial and whether he would tamper with the evidence. Mr. Parulekar was an M.A. and a man of honour, and it was quite clear that he would not abscond. As regards tampering with the evidence, the fear was baseless as the evidence that would be led by the prosecution would be all from the "blacklegs" whom Mr. Parulekar could not influence even if he meant to.

PROSECUTION VIEW.

The Public Prosecutor, Mr. Shringarpure, opposing the appeal said that Mr. Parulekar had taken an active part in the strike until an order under Section 144 was served on him. Seeing the strikers were not meeting with success, Mr. Parulekar incited them to violence as a last resort. A secret meeting was held on September 9, and there were witnesses who had heard Mr. Parulekar advising violence.

Court: "What was the incitement to violence?

The prosecutor replied that the result of such advice would be culpable homicide, grievous hurt, etc.

There were assaults on police at Ambernath on 14th, 15th, and 16th inst. The district police then started investigations and they passed on to the Railway police the evidence they got against Mr. Parulekar.

As regards Mr. Parulekar's health Mr. Shingarpure said that he was hale and hearty, that he was going about and that he was given all facilities in the jail. Saying that intelligent persons are often liable to do a great harm, the public prosecutor said that Mr. Parulekar should not be let off, because he could direct the strikers' activities even from a distance just as generals do in a war.

The Sessions Judge said he would call for a certificate from the Civil Surgeon regarding Mr. Parulekar's health and would give orders on receipt of it.

Dr. Ambedkar was instructed by Messrs. M. N. Talpade, C. T. Randive.
